JFK Signs Test Ban Treaty, Calling It 'Honorable' Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy formally ratified the limited nuclear test ban treaty today, calling it "a clear and honorable national commitment" to the cause of man's survival.

Kennedy, in a ten-minute ceremony in the historic Treaty Room of the White House said the agreement to ban all but underground nuclear tests was "great with promise" and marks a beginning that could lead to further East-West agreements.

"If this treaty fails," Kennedy said, "it will not be our doing, and even if it fails, we shall not regret that we made this commitment."

The President said the United States "can and must keep our vigilance"—an obvious reference to his earlier promise that the nation would be in a position to quickly resume atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons should some other power violate the treaty.

With 16 government officials and members of Congress looking on, Kennedy used 17 fountain pens to sign four copies of the formal instrument of ratification. The Senate consented to ratification of the treaty by a 80-19 vote on Sept. 24.

More than 100 other nations have added their signatures to the treaty.

Kennedy, reading a formal statement before ratifying the agreement, said that the first two decades of the age of nuclear energy "were full of fear."

He said that, because of this treaty, "today the fear is a little less and hope a little greater."

While emphasizing the limited nature of the treaty, Kennedy expressed hope that it would be the forerunner of other, broader agreements which, he said, may be more difficult to achieve.

The treaty is the 12th major pact concluded since the end of World War II that bears the signatures of both the United States and the Soviet Union.

Not all of the 12 are treaties in the restricted use of the word in the United States, where a treaty is an agreement made by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Some of them are agreements made without congressional assistance, under the President's constitutional power.

And only two of the 12 are bilateral treaties between Washington and Moscow: the agreement on cultural exchanges and the "hot line" pact. The others are multilateral.

State Is Urged Take 210 Items Off Liquor List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 200 brands should be removed from the shelves of the state's liquor outlets, the Little Hoover Commission says.

As much as a quarter-million dollars might be saved by cutting the present 555 brands to 345, the government study group contends, because "the 210 marginal brands recommended for removal contribute less than 5 per cent of sales."

Brands aren't named, but included are 43 straight bourbon, 29 Scotch, 22 domestic cordials and liqueurs, and 19 imported ones.

The State Department of Liquor Control's record for the past 10 years is not impressive today's report says.

"While sales by gallons decreased 1 per cent in this period," the report says, "the number of outlets increased from 271 to 349 and administrative expenses went from $6,857,900 to $11,017,800. A lack of continuity in upper management and the effects of political patronage have contributed to inefficiency."

In 34 recommendations for the 30-year-old department, which came into being after prohibition was repealed, the Little Hoover group recommends:

A more aggressive attitude toward providing new outlets, including an increase in self-service stores. (The Ohio House passed a bill this year which would have ruled out any increase in self-service state liquor stores, but it got nowhere in the Senate.)

Discontinuance of one of the three state stores in both Newark and Mansfield, and the store at Wellston, (with the additional comment that "sales in agencies 640 in Crawford County and 653 in Ot-

Gen. Taylor May Check on Pakistan Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top military man, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, may go to Pakistan next month to try to help allay suspicions raised there by the shipment of U.S. weapons to India.

Serious frictions have developed in U.S.-Pakistan relations since this country started beefing up India's military forces in the face of a serious threat from Communist China.

This in turn has angered Pakistan, a traditionally strong U.S. ally, but a bitter opponent of India.

Thus, the United States has increasingly faced the difficult task of keeping its Pakistan and India allies at arms length while trying to stem what this country considers the main threat, another Chinese intrusion into India.

Pakistan has been warming up to Red China while protesting U.S. military aid to India, despite this country's assurances that American weapons are not increasing India's capacity for any assault on Pakistan.

Chillicothe Wildlife District Office To Move to Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Division of Wildlife's District 5 office in Chillicothe will be moved to Columbus within a month, Fred E. Morr, director of the Department of Natural Resources, said today.

Morr also announced that a new real estate section, responsible for all of the department's physical holdings will be established soon. This is in line with a Little Hoover Commission recommendation. William B. Hendershot of Columbus, District 5 chief, will be transferred into the real estate section, according to the director.

The District 5 offices will be housed with the department's central office in Columbus.

Dale Whitesell, chief of the Division of Wildlife said today that he did not realize Director Morr would make the office location change so soon. He said he was aware that recommendations for the move had been made.

Sale of Wheat to Russia Is Seen Making Only Dent in U.S. Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possible sale of 100 to 125 million tons of wheat to the grain-short Soviet bloc would barely make a dent in the bountiful American supply.

At a time when wheat shortages are appearing in many countries, the U.S. government owns enough wheat to feed Americans more than two years.

This is in addition to this year's crop which also is sufficient to meet domestic food needs for an additional two years.

Although this feeding capability is based on the assumption that no wheat would be exported, there is no need to restrict exports.

Present American supplies are ample to meet anticipated domestic and export demands for at least 18 months, probably 20 months. In the meantime, another crop—next year's—will be grown and harvested.

The plentiful American supply situation is in sharp contrast to that of the Soviet Union and some of its satellites. Because of poor crops and less skill in production than possessed by American farmers, the Soviets have found it necessary to turn to Canada, Australia and Western Europe—and now possibly the United States—for supplementary wheat.

Saturday, diplomatic sources reported Hungary has told the United States it is ready to buy 800,000 tons — about 30 million bushels—of American grain.

Other informants said Cargill, Inc. of Minneapolis one of the big American grain processors and shippers has already requested an export license from the Commerce Department.

It was also reported that the Czech and Bulgarian embassies in Washington have expressed interest in buying about $60 million of American grain.

Last Friday the State Department said there have been approaches from the governments of the three Communist countries for the purchase of American wheat.

The government owns what is popularly referred to as a big wheat surplus—supplies produced in past years and turned over to the Agriculture Department under farm price supports. This quantity was 1,026,000,000 bushels as of Aug. 31.

Farm officials object to the tagging of its wheat as surplus grain. They say it should more accurately be described as a reserve and surplus supply. They say it is in the public interest to maintain a reserve of at least 400 million bushels to protect against crop failure or other national emergencies.

The government's stocks have been supplemented by this year's crop of 1,134,000,000 bushels. The bulk of this grain is owned by producers, grain merchants and warehousemen. Some already has been consumed and some exported.

Americans consume about 500 million bushels a year and use about 155 million annually for livestock feed and seed. They have been exporting more than 600 million bushels annually in recent years.

As prospects appear now, this year's crop will not be adequate to meet domestic and export requirements. Before the Soviets appeared as possible buyers, it was calculated that at least 150 million bushels would have to be taken from the government stocks before the 1964 crop starts moving to harvest next spring.

The proposed sale of wheat to Russia was questioned today by Rep. Frank T. Bow, an Ohio Republican.

He contended the proposal was intended solely to assist Russia to meet its export commitments to Communist countries of Eastern Europe and Latin America.

"It is the declared policy of the Congress that subsidized agricultural commodities—such as wheat—shall be sold only to friendly nations," Bow said. "I do not question that we need the money, but I think that's an insufficient reason for the United States to contradict its declared policy."

"I dislike seeing the United States chasing off in a grubby manner after Russian gold without great consideration, and with out review of our total trade policy."

Pumpkin Show Entertainment Will Be at Peak This Year

The countdown has started as "children of all ages" look forward to the opening of the 57th Circleville Pumpkin Show a week from Wednesday.

The "biggest and best ever" is no exaggeration when it pertains to this year's show. Pumpkin Show directors started planning the four-day event several months ago.

James P. Shea, vice president and program director, said his associates were concerned since the U. S. Army Field Band could not schedule performances this year. "Therefore," Shea said, "we had the difficult task of preparing a program with equal drawing power for the thousands of visitors who annually hope to see the famed band."

As a result of concentrated effort, a varied program with first-class talent in nearly every field of the performing arts has been scheduled. This will hold true for both the afternoon and evening hours of the fall festival.

SCHEDULED for a Friday evening concert will be the 661st Air Force Band of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton.

The 50 musicians who comprise the band will present selections from the classics and Broadway hits to marches and popular numbers. The band is well-known throughout the Ohio area for its concerts and large dance band—the Skylarks, which will also appear.

Ag Secretary Books Appearance in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman moves this week into the second half of a grass roots tour designed to give the Kennedy administration an idea of what farmers want in the way of future farm programs.

Other meetings are scheduled at Lapeer, Mich., Oct. 15; Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 15, and Lubbock, Texas, Nov. 4.

These meetings are being held against a farm background that has been disappointing to the administration. The disappointments included grower defeats of administration supply control programs for turkeys and wheat and sharp opposition in some areas to administration proposals to impose production controls on milk.

Skopje Tent City Hit By New Menace—Floods

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Tent-dwellers in Skopje — the city under canvas since the disastrous earthquake last summer — are being moved to new quarters. Floods swept through their temporary shelters and up to 20,000 people were on the move.

The floods were caused by heavy rains Saturday and Sunday. They also damaged stores of building materials set aside for Skopje's reconstruction.

Castroland's Weak Economy Battered Hard

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora lashed Cuba today for the fourth day in a row, dealing a crushing blow to the already staggering economy of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Half of the island's sugar, rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa crops were reported wiped out by the wind and the torrential rain, and Flora was far from through with Cuba. At 8 a.m. (EST), she had started to move once again across the stricken nation.

The turbulent eye of the giant storm crossed the south coast near Santa Cruz Del Sur and was thrashing very slowly toward the city of Camaguey.

Sugar production, the backbone of Cuba's economy, already had fallen to the lowest level in 30 years. Castro admitted, of poor Communist management, lackadaisical work by peasants, and the breakdown of motor transport.

As the 100-mile-an-hour storm — which already has taken more than 400 lives — moved into Cuba for the second time, the Bahama Islands came once more into range and Florida was threatened.

In her first thrust into Cuba Friday, Flora gave signs that she would thrash on northward into the Bahamas. But the storm stalled over Oriente province, then turned westward back into the Caribbean sea.

Only two deaths thus far have been confirmed in the guarded reports from the radio. The crews of two coastal fishing boats are missing in savage seas off the south coast. More than 400 bodies have been counted in Haiti.

Oriente is the principal sugar producing province of Cuba and

House Slated For Debate on Rights Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights skirmish looms in the House today when a bill to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission comes up for a vote.

The bill is a stopgap measure to keep the commission alive until Congress acts on an omnibus civil rights bill. The commission is due to expire Nov. 30.

The House action ushers in a heavy week of congressional activity, with a $47-billion defense appropriation bill, a major education bill and a bill providing funds for more than 20 government agencies coming up in either the House or Senate.

A parliamentary situation requiring a two-thirds majority for passage of the Civil Rights Commission extension adds a touch of suspense to what otherwise would be a fairly routine vote.

House attendance is generally light on Mondays, with most of the missing members coming from metropolitan areas in the Northeast where support for civil rights legislation is strongest. Southern opponents of the commission can be expected to turn out in force.

The bill provides for only a one-year extension of the commission, whereas the omnibus bill now being considered by the House Judiciary Committee would make it a permanent agency. The one-year extension has been approved by the Senate.

Rhodes Critic Gets Legal Center Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James L. Young of Columbus, former administrator of the state Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, has been named director of the Ohio Legal Center Institute, effective Nov. 3.

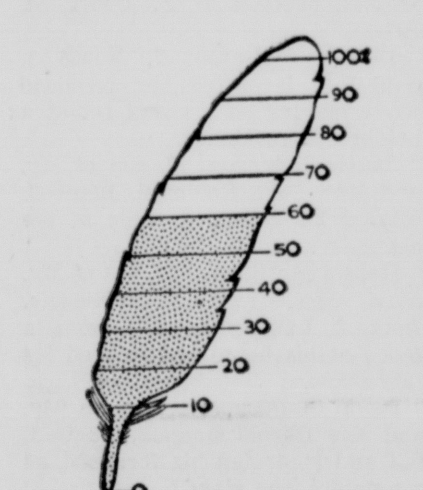

The center sets up programs of continuing education for Ohio lawyers.

Young, a Republican, served for six years as administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation. When his term expired last June he was not reappointed to the post.

Toward the end of his term, Young was outspokenly critical of the administration's cuts in budget requests for his department.

Fund Collections Inching Upward

Latest Tabulations Stand at 60 Per Cent

Pickaway County Community Fund collections, moving ahead at a steady pace today reached the 60 per cent stage.

The goal for this year is $37,427. Today's tabulations mean that collections now stand at more than $22,000.

The campaign, under the direction of Joseph Bartz this year, passed its halfway mark Friday when 55 per cent of the total was registered in the ledger.

Campaign officials announced today that the Fund's headquarters in the lobby of the American Hotel have been closed. They request that donations now be presented to Eugene Wilson at the Second National Bank.

Diem Convinced Reds on Run

Viet Nam Chief Says Buddhist Crisis Over

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem said today the Communists are losing the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

In an address opening the National Assembly, Diem said the Communist Viet Cong forces are "eventually of an inescapable defeat."

He also told his hand-picked assembly, in which there are no opposition parties, that South Viet Nam's Buddhist "problem" had been settled. His regime's recent crackdown on the Buddhists is to be debated in the U. N. General Assembly, beginning this afternoon.

Speaking while police enforced maximum security regulations in downtown Saigon, Diem said: "At this very moment, it is with regret that we see some countries, intoxicated by false information on the situation in Viet Nam and on the Buddhist question in particular, request and obtain inclusion in the United Nations agenda of a problem already settled."

In New York, 16 Asian, African and Latin American nations planned to introduce a resolution calling on U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to intercede in behalf of the Buddhists.

Diem has sent a special six-man mission to the U.N. to defend his government.

South Viet Nam is expected to counter the criticism in the assembly with an invitation to an international inspection team to see the situation first hand.

As a result of concentrated effort, a varied program with first-class talent in nearly every field of the performing arts has been scheduled. This will hold true for both the afternoon and evening hours of the fall festival.

SCHEDULED for a Friday evening concert will be the 661st Air Force Band of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton.

The 50 musicians who comprise the band will present selections from the classics and Broadway hits to marches and popular numbers. The band is well-known throughout the Ohio area for its concerts and large dance bands—the Skylarks, which will also appear.

Many radio and television personalities are scheduled for performances. Included in the lineup will be Roger Reeb, of WBNS-Columbus; and Paul Kohler, billed as America's greatest xylophonist; Erica Melchior's famous marionettes; the Rhythmettes dance group; and others.

A new program titled On Stage Pumpkin Show will be presented 6 p. m. Friday and will feature a variety of acts. Program Director Shea said "several surprises" are in store for spectators.

Included in the many exhibits will be one of the nation's most important defense weapons, the U. S. Air Force's IM-99 BOMARC surface-to-air interceptor missile. This unit will be on display (Continued on Page 2)

LONDON (AP)—Britain's one-time king of confidence men delivered flowers and a letter of thanks today to the prison that helped him go straight.

"They really looked after me in Wandsworth jail," said Stanley Rowe, "and I wanted to show my appreciation."

"Their understanding put me on the road to my longest spell of freedom."

Low, 41, told reporters he had just completed his first two years of freedom since he was 14.

Low returned to the prison in a tailored suit, bowler hat, hand-made shoes, a $25 shirt and a silver-headed walking stick.

He rode in a chauffeur-driven hired car. In his arms was a bouquet and a letter to the prison head which said:

"I leave these flowers for you and your staff of the rehabilitation wing in appreciation of the help given me during my sojourn. Best wishes to you and your staff."

Low is a partner in a Soho club and prospering.

Talking to newsmen about the past, he said he once talked himself into a job as a footman for Queen Mary, hoping to rob her, but abandoned the project.

Ag Secretary Books Appearance in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman moves this week into the second half of a grass roots tour designed to give the Kennedy administration an idea of what farmers want in the way of future farm programs.

Other meetings are scheduled at Lapeer, Mich., Oct. 15; Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 15, and Lubbock, Texas, Nov. 4.

These meetings are being held against a farm background that has been disappointing to the administration. The disappointments included grower defeats of administration supply control programs for turkeys and wheat and sharp opposition in some areas to administration proposals to impose production controls on milk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hospital authorities reported today the tumor which required removal of the left lung of Edward R. Morrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency, was malignant.

Morrow underwent surgery at Washington Hospital Center Saturday for removal of the tumor. The growth was found to be so located that removal of the entire lung was required.

Castroland's Weak Economy Battered Hard

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora lashed Cuba today for the fourth day in a row, dealing a crushing blow to the already staggering economy of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Half of the island's sugar, rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa crops were reported wiped out by the wind and the torrential rain, and Florida was far from through with Cuba. At 8 a.m. (EST), she had started to move once again across the stricken nation.

The turbulent eye of the giant storm crossed the south coast near Santa Cruz Del Sur and was thrashing very slowly toward the city of Camaguey.

Sugar production, the backbone of Cuba's economy, already had fallen to the lowest level in 30 years, Castro admitted, of poor Communist management, lackadaisical work by peasants, and the breakdown of motor transport.

As the 100-mile-an-hour storm—which already has taken more than 400 lives—moved into Cuba for the second time, the Bahama Islands came once more into range and Florida was threatened.

In her first thrust into Cuba Friday, Flora gave signs that she would thrash on northward into the Bahamas. But the storm stalled over Oriente province, then turned westward back into the Caribbean sea.

Only two deaths thus far have been confirmed in the guarded reports from the radio. The crews of two coastal fishing boats are missing in savage seas off the south coast. More than 400 bodies have been counted in Haiti.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights skirmish looms in the House today when a bill to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission comes up for a vote.

The bill is a stopgap measure to keep the commission alive until Congress acts on an omnibus civil rights bill. The commission is due to expire Nov. 30.

The House action ushers in a heavy week of congressional activity, with a $47-billion defense appropriation bill, a major education bill and a bill providing funds for more than 20 government agencies coming up in either the House or Senate.

A parliamentary situation requiring a two-thirds majority for passage of the Civil Rights Commission extension adds a touch of suspense to what otherwise would be a fairly routine vote.

House attendance is generally light on Mondays, with most of the missing members coming from metropolitan areas in the Northeast where support for civil rights legislation is strongest.

Southern opponents of the commission can be expected to turn out in force.

The bill provides for only a one-year extension of the commission, whereas the omnibus bill now being considered by the House Judiciary Committee would make it a permanent agency. The one-year extension has been approved by the Senate.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James L. Young of Columbus, former administrator of the state Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, has been named director of the Ohio Legal Center Institute, effective Nov. 3.

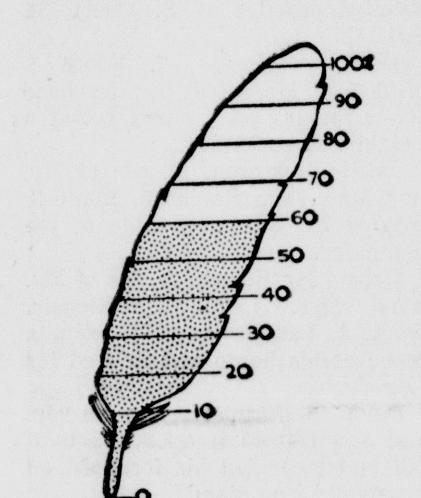

The center sets up programs of continuing education for Ohio lawyers.

Young, a Republican, served for six years as administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation. When his term expired last June he was not reappointed to the post.

Toward the end of his term, Young was outspokenly critical of the administration's cuts in budget requests for his department.

Fund Collections Inching Upward

Latest Tabulations Stand at 60 Per Cent

Pickaway County Community Fund collections, moving ahead at a steady pace today reached the 60 per cent stage.

The goal for this year is $37,427. Today's tabulations mean that collections now stand at more than $22,000.

The campaign, under the direction of Joseph Bartz this year, passed its halfway mark Friday when 55 per cent of the total was registered in the ledger.

Campaign officials announced today that the Fund's headquarters in the lobby of the American Hotel have been closed. They request that donations now be presented to Eugene Wilson at the Second National Bank.

House Panel's Ax Descends On Fallout Shelter Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire $195 million asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 26 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $13,102,818.700 of the $14,658,588,000 requested by President Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,769,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $1,233,067,400 higher than the same agencies received last year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was allotted $5.1 billion of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested. Congress itself, in a separate authorization acts previously had cut the program more than $400 million. The committee was held to the authorization ceiling.

The amount recommended for the space program was $1,425,885,000 more than Congress provided last year. Most of the money approved was earmarked for research and development.

An effort to cut the space agency funds further will be made on the house floor. Rep. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., called for additional reductions of $700 million, mainly in the program to send a manned space vehicle to the moon.

The Veterans Administration's share of the funds was $5,372,430,000, almost the entire amount requested and a slight increase over last year. It included $1,075,186,000 to operate 121,486 hospital beds, and $3,921,000,000 for compensation and pension payments.

The committee rejected the entire $195 million requested to finance a nationwide fallout shelter program which the House overwhelmingly authorized — but did not finance—last month. The Senate has not acted on the authorization bill.

For all civil defense programs, including those now in operation, the President requested $346.9 million. The committee slashed this to $87.8 million.

Conference of World's Reds May Expel Communist China

MOSCOW (AP)—A world conference of Communist parties will be called shortly and the expectation is that the Chinese Reds will be expelled from the international movement, a non-Soviet Communist source said today.

The informant said the buildup already has begun, the call probably will come from Moscow, but there is no indication of a date. But he said there is enough evidence to indicate an early call is likely.

China also will be invited, as well as those backing Peking notably the Communist parties from Albania North Korea, Japan and New Zealand.

A program will be drawn up for the meeting, the source said, based strongly on the Soviet position.

If the Chinese attend they will reject the program. After that, the source added, expulsion procedure will be started.

Altogether the Red Chinese have full support of barely a half dozen Communist parties. Of these, only the Chinese and Albanian parties are in control of the government. The important parties of Italy, France and the Communist states all the way from Outer Mongolia to Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany have proclaimed their support of the Russian party.

In any world Communist meeting, the Russians would have an enormous voting edge. The last world meeting, held in Moscow in 1960, drew representatives from 21 countries, including China.

Patrol Checks Similar Mishaps At Same Place

The State Highway Patrol yesterday investigated two accidents at the junction of Routes 22 and 104.

One of the mishaps, yesterday afternoon, involved three cars. Three persons were injured.

James N. Helpringer, 74, Columbus, was traveling south on Route 104. He failed to stop at the intersection according to the OSP report. His vehicle struck a car driven by George E. Balzar, 46, Washington C. H.

Balzar then lost control of his car and struck a third auto driven by Gerina F. Howard, 47, of Springfield.

TREATED and released from Berger Hospital were Doris Jean Balzar, 33, Brenda, 12, and Brian, Balzar, 12.

Helpringer was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Moderate damage resulted to all three vehicles.

The second accident at the intersection involved cars driven by Richard L. Orr 49, Dayton and Earl E. Culp, 74, Columbus.

Culp was driving south on Route 104. He stopped at the intersection but started again and pulled into the side of Orr's car, according to the OSP report. Culp was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. Moderate damage was inflicted on both cars. No injuries were reported.

In a similar accident at the junction of Routes 56 and 159, Patrolmen said Orville E. Cooper, 51, Newark, stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of a car driven by Donna J. Smiley, 34, of Columbus.

Cooper was cited for failure to yield. There were no injuries.

Pumpkin . . .

throughout the show.

A platform on E. Franklin St., put into operation for the first time last year, will be used to "far greater advantage" this year, Shea said.

THE PLATFORM, which will be operated by Harold Anderson and Richard Huggins, in addition to being a control point for parades, will be a center for band concerts and record hops each evening.

A total of 54 musical units will appear during the Pumpkin Show in addition to seven drill units.

The Circleville High School Band will make five appearances; Amanda-Clearcreek will make two; Malta McConellsville will make two; Kingston will make two; Alfensville and the Adelphi Community Bands will also make two appearances each.

Each parade will feature 35 floats. The Little Miss Pumpkin Show Parade will have eight marching units in addition to the Little Miss entries.

The Miss Pumpkin Show Parade on Wednesday evening will have 13 musical units, plus the floats and contestants. Other parades throughout the show will have a similar number of musical units and floats and plenty of competition.

The remainder of this week and the beginning of next week will be spent making final preparations for the Pumpkin Show by a great percentage of Pickaway Counties.

Shea commented today that everyone can participate in one or more phases of the 1963 Pumpkin Show, regardless of age or handicap. Competition is being offered in everything from the "prettiest baby" to the "best hog caller," he added.

Did Goddess of Fire Hear Postmaster?
HONOLULU (AP)—Postmaster General John A. Gronouski, speaking to the National Association of Postmasters in Honolulu, told them about the Hawaii Legend of the Goddess of Fire.

The goddess appeared as either a beautiful woman or an old harridan who flirts with only handsome young men. If rejected, she caused volcanoes to erupt.

"I am greatly relieved," said Gronouski, "that I have not seen one unattractive woman here today. I think we are safe from volcanic eruptions."

As he spoke, a crater on Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii erupted.

Athens Countian Killed in Affray
MCCONNELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A young Athens County man is dead as the result of a weekend shooting which, Morgan County sheriff's deputies say, still is under investigation.

The victim was Lee Roy Carney, 19, of Rt. 1, Shade. Deputies said he was hit in the face neck and shoulders with pellets from a 12-gauge shotgun as he sat in a tree which he had climbed.

The man being questioned is Albert James Smith 58, Rt. 1, Nelsonville, deputies added. No charges have been filed.

Local Patrolman Promoted, Assigned To Van Wert Post
Ohio State Highway Patrolman Carl D. Wolfinger of Grove City has been promoted and transferred to the Van Wert Patrol Post, it was reported today by Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis of the Circleville Post.

Wolfinger, promoted to Patrolman 2, is a veteran of 11 years of service with the OSP.

He is a graduate of Lancaster St. Mary's High School and attended Lancaster Business College and Ohio State University, Columbus.

A veteran of the United States Army, he is married to the former Jean Kuhnert of Rochester, N. Y. They have five children.

His previous experience with the Patrol includes service at London Post, the Columbus Post and here.

Wolfinger served as the district coordinator for school bus inspection of Franklin and Pickaway Counties.

10 Cattle Dumped From Farm Truck
A farm truck loaded with 10 cattle turned over early today on the Circleville - London Northern Road just south of the Franklin County Line.

Driver of the truck, Curtis C. Howard, 25, West Jefferson, told Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff George Linder another car had crowded him off the road. The truck turned over on its side when it went in the ditch.

The driver of the other car did not stop.

Deputy Linder reported that neither the driver nor the cattle suffered injuries. The cattle were corralled in the barnyard of Howard Karns, Orient, shortly after the accident.

Stock Market Prices Uneven
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fluctuated unevenly near its all time peak early this afternoon.

Most price changes were relatively small while the trading pace held fairly active.

Many Wall Streeters were looking for prices to break through the peak of two weeks ago.

Actually, all morning the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials remained slightly ahead of the Sept. 24 closing record of 745.96. At noon it was 746.13, up 1.07.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was higher by .2 at 279.4 at noon with industrials ahead .7, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

Steels pushed to the upside as did aircrafts, mail orders and metals. Rails were lower while utilities, the motors and chemical sections were mixed.

He is a graduate of Lancaster St. Mary's High School and attended Lancaster Business College and Ohio State University, Columbus.

A veteran of the United States Army, he is married to the former Jean Kuhnert of Rochester, N. Y. They have five children.

His previous experience with the Patrol includes service at London Post, the Columbus Post and here.

Wolfinger served as the district coordinator for school bus inspection of Franklin and Pickaway Counties.

10 Cattle Dumped From Farm Truck
A farm truck loaded with 10 cattle turned over early today on the Circleville - London Northern Road just south of the Franklin County Line.

Driver of the truck, Curtis C. Howard, 25, West Jefferson, told Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff George Linder another car had crowded him off the road. The truck turned over on its side when it went in the ditch.

The driver of the other car did not stop.

Deputy Linder reported that neither the driver nor the cattle suffered injuries. The cattle were corralled in the barnyard of Howard Karns, Orient, shortly after the accident.

Did Goddess of Fire Hear Postmaster?
HONOLULU (AP)—Postmaster General John A. Gronouski, speaking to the National Association of Postmasters in Honolulu, told them about the Hawaii Legend of the Goddess of Fire.

The goddess appeared as either a beautiful woman or an old harridan who flirts with only handsome young men. If rejected, she caused volcanoes to erupt.

"I am greatly relieved," said Gronouski, "that I have not seen one unattractive woman here today. I think we are safe from volcanic eruptions."

As he spoke, a crater on Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii erupted.

Athens Countian Killed in Affray
MCCONNELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A young Athens County man is dead as the result of a weekend shooting which, Morgan County sheriff's deputies say, still is under investigation.

The victim was Lee Roy Carney, 19, of Rt. 1, Shade. Deputies said he was hit in the face neck and shoulders with pellets from a 12-gauge shotgun as he sat in a tree which he had climbed.

The man being questioned is Albert James Smith 58, Rt. 1, Nelsonville, deputies added. No charges have been filed.

Flora in four days probably has done more damage to the crop than the anti-Castro rebels have done in four years with sabotage.

The 8 a.m. advisory placed the storm center near latitude 21.0 north, longitude 78.0 west, or about 380 miles south-southeast of Miami.

Gale winds whirled outward 400 miles to the north, well up the coast of Florida, and 200 miles to the south over Jamaica. One death has been reported in Jamaica's flooded mountains. Rain extended into the Bahamas.

Many hurricanes in the past have made sharp changes in direction, even looped the loop, but forecasters said it is very unusual for a storm to sit so long in one place as Flora has.

Even more unique is the fact that Flora has maintained her strength, although a large part of her circulation has remained over land for four days.

The big storm churned up angry seas in the northwest Caribbean, southeast Gulf of Mexico and in Florida-Bahama waters. Gale warnings flapped as far north as Stuart, almost a third of the way up Florida's Atlantic coast.

A broadcast mentioned in Miami Sunday night said 30,000 persons had been taken from flooded villages around Victoria de las Tunas and 4,700 from suburbs of Santiago de Cuba—where Havana radio said drinking water ran out and many homes collapsed. More than one-fourth of Camaguey, capital of Camaguey Province, was reported flooded.

Carlos Rodriguez, head of the Cuban Agrarian Reform Institute, was quoted as saying Flora may have wiped out half of Cuba's rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa production.

Missing were crews of two Cuban coastal fishing boats and two firemen.

Rescue workers with helicopters went to the aid of farmhands whose trucks were caught by flood waters between Caimanera and Guantanamo City about 20 miles from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay. Other farm workers were reported marooned on roofs.

Before Flora assailed Cuba, she killed 17 people on Tobago Island, off Venezuela, then took an estimated 400 lives in Haiti. Many Haitian villages were reduced to rubble.

Deaths
INFANT RAMEY
The infant daughter of James and Barbara Watson Ramey, 303 W. Huston St., died 8 p. m. yesterday at birth in Berger Hospital.

Surviving, in addition to the parents, are two brothers, Jimmie and Tommy; a sister, Kathleen, all of the home, maternal grandmother, Mrs. Beatrice Watson, W. High St.; paternal grandfather, Ralph Ramey, Florida.

Graveside services will be 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Hitler-Ludwig Cemetery with the Rev. Edward Adkins officiating.

Arrangements were completed by the Mader Funeral Home.

MRS. MARGARET MAXSON
Mrs. Margaret Edith Maxson, 71, of near Hallsville, died last night at her residence.

She was born April 23, 1892, in Pomeroy, O., the daughter of Joseph and Martha Miller Young. She was the widow of Nathan Maxson who died in 1954.

Mrs. Maxson was a member of the Hallsville Methodist Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Garnett Hupp, and Mrs. Lila Hupp, both of Route 1, Kingston, three sons, Clarence, Route 1, Laurelville; George, Route 1, Kingston; Marvin, Route 1, Circleville; 16 grandchildren; 31 great-grandchildren.

Services will be 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with the Rev. Frank White officiating. Burial will be in Green Summit Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Driver's Testing Hours Are Listed
A temporarily revised schedule of hours for the local drivers' exam station, operated by the State Highway Patrol, was announced today by Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis.

Sgt. Adomaitis said the office would be closed Saturday in observance of Columbus Day. He also listed special hours for the Pumpkin Show weekend.

The office will be open from 8-10 a. m. on Friday and Saturday for those seeking permits only, the sergeant said. The written exam and eye exam will be given. On-the-road driving tests will be given from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on both days.

Two Weekend Calls Made by Firemen
Local firemen answered two calls during the weekend.

The first was at 6:20 p. m. Saturday when a unit was dispatched to Roselyn's Inn, 120 S. Court St., to check a grill. No damage was reported, although smoke was heavy.

The second call came 6 p. m. yesterday when firemen were told a barn was burning. However, the flames were coming from leaves burning near the building. No loss was reported.

Local Man Fined In City Court On 3 Charges
Delbert Giffin, Highland Ave., cited into Circleville Municipal Court by City Policeman Wesley Barton, was found guilty of three charges.

Judge Sterling M. Lamb levied a fine of $150 and costs and sentenced Giffin to 15 days in the county jail for attempting to escape the custody of a police officer.

He also was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct and $50 and costs for resisting arrest.

House Panel's Ax Descends On Fallout Shelter Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire $195 million asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 26 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $13,102,818, 700 of the $14,658,588,000 requested by President Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,769,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $1,233,067,400 higher than the same agencies received last year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was allotted $5.1 billion of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested. Congress itself, in a separate authorization acts previously had cut the program more than $400 million. The committee was held to the authorization ceiling.

The amount recommended for the space program was $1,425,885,000 more than Congress provided last year. Most of the money approved was earmarked for research and development.

An effort to cut the space agency funds further will be made on the House floor. Rep. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., called for additional reductions of $700 million, mainly in the program to send a manned space vehicle to the moon.

The Veterans Administration's share of the funds was $5,372,430,000, almost the entire amount requested and a slight increase over last year. It included $1,075,186,000 to operate 121,486 hospital beds, and $3,921,000,000 for compensation and pension payments.

The committee rejected the entire $195 million requested to finance a nationwide fallout shelter program which the House overwhelmingly authorized — but did not finance last month. The Senate has not acted on the authorization bill.

For all civil defense programs, including those now in operation, the President requested $346.9 million. The committee slashed this to $87.8 million.

Conference of World's Reds May Expel Communist China

MOSCOW (AP)—A world conference of Communist parties will be called shortly and the expectation is that the Chinese Reds will be expelled from the international movement, a non-Soviet Communist source said today.

The informant said the buildup already has begun, the call probably will come from Moscow, but there is no indication of a date. But he said there is enough evidence to indicate an early call is likely.

China also will be invited, as well as those backing Peking notably the Communist parties from Albania, North Korea, Japan and New Zealand.

A program will be drawn up for the meeting, the source said, based strongly on the Soviet position.

If the Chinese attend they will reject the program. After that, the source added, expulsion procedure will be started.

Altogether the Red Chinese have full support of barely a half dozen Communist parties. Of these, only the Chinese and Albanian parties are in control of the government. The important parties of Italy, France and the Communist states all the way from Outer Mongolia to Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany have proclaimed their support of the Russian party.

In any world Communist meeting, the Russians would have an enormous voting edge. The last world meeting, held in Moscow in 1960, drew representatives from 21 countries, including China.

Patrol Checks Similar Mishaps At Same Place

The State Highway Patrol yesterday investigated two accidents at the junction of Routes 22 and 104.

One of the mishaps, yesterday afternoon, involved three cars. Three persons were injured.

James N. Helpringer, 74, Columbus, was traveling south on Route 104. He failed to stop at the intersection according to the OSP report. His vehicle struck a car driven by George E. Balzar, 46, Washington C. H.

Balzar then lost control of his car and struck a third auto driven by Gerina F. Howard, 47, of Springfield.

TREATED and released from Berger Hospital were Doris Jean Balzar, 33, Brenda, 12, and Brian, Balzar, 12.

Helpringer was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Moderate damage resulted to all three vehicles.

The second accident at the intersection involved cars driven by Richard L. Orr, 49, Dayton and Earl E. Culp, 74, Columbus.

Culp was driving south on Route 104. He stopped at the intersection but started again and pulled into the side of Orr's car, according to the OSP report. Culp was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. Moderate damage was inflicted on both cars. No injuries were reported.

In a similar accident at the junction of Routes 56 and 159, Patrolmen said Orville E. Cooper, 51, Newark, stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of a car driven by Donna J. Smiley, 34, of Columbus.

Cooper was cited for failure to yield. There were no injuries.

Pumpkin . . .

A platform on E. Franklin St. put into operation for the first time last year, will be used to a "far greater advantage" this year, Shea said.

THE PLATFORM, which will be operated by Harold Anderson and Richard Huggins, in addition to being a control point for parades, will be a center for band concerts and record hops each evening.

A total of 54 musical units will appear during the Pumpkin Show in addition to seven drill units. The Circleville High School Band will make five appearances; Amanda-Clearcreek will make two; Malta McConellsville will make two; Kingston will make two; Altonville and the Adelphi Community Bands will also make two appearances each.

Each parade will feature 35 floats. The Little Miss Pumpkin Show Parade will have eight marching units in addition to the Little Miss entries.

The Miss Pumpkin Show Parade on Wednesday evening will have 13 musical units, plus the floats and contestants. Other parades throughout the show will have a similar number of musical units and plenty of competition.

The remainder of this week and the beginning of next week will be spent making final preparations for the Pumpkin Show by a great percentage of Pickaway Counties.

Shea commented today that everyone can participate in one or more phases of the 1963 Pumpkin Show, regardless of age or handicap. Competition is being offered in everything from the "prettiest baby" to the "best hog caller," he added.

Stock Market Prices Uneven

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fluctuated unevenly near its all time peak early this afternoon.

Most price changes were relatively small while the trading pace held fairly active.

Many Wall Streeters were looking for prices to break through the peak of two weeks ago.

Actually, all morning the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials remained slightly ahead of the Sept. 24 closing record of 745.36.

At noon it was 746.13, up 1.07. The Associated Press 60 stock average was higher by 2 at 279.4 at noon with industrials ahead 7, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

Steels pushed to the upside as did aircrafts, mail orders and metals. Rails were lower while utilities, the motors and chemical sections were mixed.

Local Patrolman Promoted, Assigned To Van Wert Post

Ohio State Highway Patrolman Carl D. Wolfinger of Grove City has been promoted and transferred to the Van Wert Post. It was reported today by Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis of the Circleville Post.

Wolfinger, promoted to Patrolman 2, is a veteran of 11 years of service with the OSP.

He is a graduate of Lancaster St. Mary's High School and attended Lancaster Business College and Ohio State University, Columbus.

A veteran of the United States Army, he is married to the former Jean Kuhnt of Rochester, N. Y. They have five children.

Wolfinger served as the district coordinator for school bus inspection of Franklin and Pickaway Counties.

10 Cattle Dumped From Farm Truck

A farm truck loaded with 10 cattle turned over early today on the Circleville - London Northern Road just south of the Franklin County Line.

Driver of the truck, Curtis C. Howard, 25, West Jefferson, told Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff George Linder another car had crowded him off the road. The truck turned over on its side when it went in the ditch.

The driver of the other car did not stop.

Deputy Linder reported that neither the driver nor the cattle suffered injuries. The cattle were corralled in the barnyard of Howard Karns, Orient, shortly after the accident.

Driver's Testing Hours Are Listed

A temporarily revised schedule of hours for the local drivers' exam station, operated by the State Highway Patrol, was announced today by Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis.

Sgt. Adomaitis said the office would be closed Saturday in observance of Columbus Day. He also listed special hours for the Pumpkin Show weekend.

The office will be open from 8-10 a. m. on Friday and Saturday for those seeking permits only, the sergeant said. The written exam and eye exam will be given. On-the-road driving tests will be given from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on both days.

Two Weekend Calls Made by Firemen

Local firemen answered two calls during the weekend.

The first was at 6:20 p. m. Saturday when a unit was dispatched to Roselyn's Inn, 120 S. Court St., to check a grill. No damage was reported, although smoke was heavy.

The second call came 6 p. m. yesterday when firemen were told a barn was burning. However, the flames were coming from leaves burning near the building. No loss was reported.

Local Man Fined In City Court On 3 Charges

Delbert Giffin, Highland Ave., cited into Circleville Municipal Court by City Policeman Wesley Barton, was found guilty of three charges.

Judge Sterling M. Lamb levied a fine of $150 and costs and sentenced Giffin to 15 days in the county jail for attempting to escape the custody of a police officer.

He also was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct and $50 and costs for resisting arrest.

14 Adventurers Being Sought

Americans Lost In Mexico Area

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP) — The United States government moved in helicopters and a parachute rescue team today in the mounting search for a group of daring American adventurers in desolate northwest Mexico.

After a small airplane flew through the needle thin gorge, its craggy walls blotched with shadows, help was called for from the U.S. Air Force and Army.

The river expedition of 12 men and two women hasn't been heard from or seen in more than a week during their quest to conquer the uncharted Rio Urique. The 15th member is hospitalized there after he had been sent for additional supplies.

The exploration - adventure group set out 13 days ago in four 15-foot rubber boats to travel the thin canyon which stretches along the winding, twisting Barranca Cobre (Copper Gulch). They had with them only enough food for a few days. They planned to pick up provisions from mining camps at intervals along the river.

The explorers include veteran Utah River runners, two California business executives on a "vacationing camping trip" and a zoology professor.

The search area is about 300 air miles from this Mexican state capital.

One of the adventurers, James D. Dean, 31, of Salt Lake City, Utah, reached here Friday after an exhausting 15-mile hike across rough terrain. He had to swim another seven miles.

Dean and Larry Davis of Price, Utah, were sent by the expedition for more food.

From his hospital bed, Dean Sunday expressed confidence that his mates are safe.

He said when he and Davis left the group Sept. 29, "everything was fine. There were no injuries. Their spirits were high and morale wonderful."

Bing OKs Mrs. Crosby's Return to Acting Career

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Do you think it's significant," asks Bob Hope, "that this time they gave me a leading lady who is also a nurse?"

Not only a nurse, she's Mrs. Bing Crosby!

This peculiar turn of events is happening on the high-rated Bob Hope Chrysler show. Besides six variety shows, the comedian is doing two hours with plots. One of the latter is called "The House Next Door," in which Kathryn Crosby, formerly Grant, need Grandstaff, plays his wife. Jill St. John is the girl next door.

Ask Mrs. Crosby how she likes working with Hope and she replies, "fine, but then I know Bob; we lived together for three months in England."

The Crosby and Hope families shared a castle two years ago when the husbands were making "The Road to Hong Kong."

After a period of Crosby bearing (Harry, 5, Mary Frances, 4, Nathaniel, 12) and nurse training (she got her degree, now is studying for a state license), Kathryn is once more paying some attention to her acting career, largely at the insistence of her agent, veteran talent mentor Max Arnow.

When she indicated a desire to resume her career, Max booked her into summer theaters in "Sunday in New York." The result was a business and critical success in such places as Indianapolis and Warren, Ohio.

Most important of all, she sold one theater-goer—Bing.

"He had never seen me work," she said. "After seeing the play, he decided to hire me for his next television special. The only trouble is there was too much kissing in the play. I've got to find another one with less kissing."

Despite such complaints, Bing seems to approve of his wife's career. He is entering a period of activity, with television specials and a movie with the Frank Sinatra gang lined up. That means less time for the Crosbys at their various vacation homes, which includes Palm Springs, a ranch in Northern California and a new house at Las Cruces in Mexico.

Automatic Mining Gear Is Given Demonstration

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Some 35 editors and several government officials will view a demonstration today of an automatic mining machine at the nearby Sunnyhill mine of the Peabody Coal Co.

This is the first stop in a four-day tour of mining installations in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A warm sun and gentle southerly winds raised temperatures above 80 in Ohio Sunday. Toledo reported the highest with 89. Cleveland 85 and Cincinnati and Columbus 86.

The late season heatwave is expected to break Tuesday after another record day of high temperatures today.

At daybreak today temperatures ranged from 47 at Zanesville to 65 at Mansfield. It was 65 in Cleveland, 51 in Columbus and 52 in Cincinnati.

The morning weather map showed a cool front stretching from the northern Great Lakes to the central Great Plains states. The cool front is expected to reach Ohio during the night and move beyond the Ohio River by Tuesday morning with little or no chance of rain.

However, a change to northerly winds is expected to hold temperatures in the 60s and 70s Tuesday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will return to seasonal normals. Normal high 64-67, normal low 43-49. Cooler Tuesday, moderating a little again Wednesday, turning colder again Thursday for rest of week. Rainfall will average about two-tenths of an inch with showers about Thursday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average two to six degrees above normal. Normal high 67-74, normal low 45-50. Cooler Tuesday and near weekend, warming in between. Little or no rainfall expected.

The World Today

By JIM ECKER
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mythical conversation overheard while wandering through the Pentagon:

General: The President says we've got to send 100 tough combat men to Viet Nam right away.

Colonel: Affirmative. I'll get in motion wheelwise.

General: Not so fast. The secretary wants to know how much it will cost.

Colonel: Our computer is not operational, but throwing my hat figuratively, I'd say to get 10 men with combat capability into the proximity of opposing forces would cost about $3 billion.

General: Three billion dollars! How do you figure that? And speak English. That jargon is OK for Senate hearings, but the only thing you said that I understood was $3 billion.

Colonel: It's simple, sir. The 100 men will need supplies, food, doctors, dental work, snack bars and a headquarters unit. The French fried potatoes alone are a big item. Somebody has to keep the records. And somebody has to keep the records of the unit that keeps the records.

General: How many men will you need for those jobs?

Colonel: Let's see. Cooks, clerks, doctors, dentists, say about 500. With that many men in the area we'll have to set up a military mission. That means civilian secretaries, and lots of young officers to date the girls. They get lonely out in a place like that. They'll need several hundred staff cars to drive them around. I'd better order a motor pool battalion right away. And I'll need about 200 PX clerks. We can't expect our people to live off the land.

General: No, of course not. But 200 PX clerks seems like a lot just to handle cigarettes, tooth paste, things like that.

Colonel: Oh, we'll have to lay in a big supply of groceries, meats, refrigerators, bubble gum, comic books, garden swings, lawn seed, baby food—

General: Baby food? I want 100 combat men. They'll be eating C rations. What's this about baby food?

Colonel: It's for the dependents. Our mission might be over there for years. We'll have to send the families of the headquarters men. I'll call the President Lines and order up four or five passenger ships.

General: Four or five ships?

Colonel: We'll need that many because of the rotation. We'll move the families in and out every six months. We've got to carry the furniture, and the school teachers and supplies.

General: We need schools, eh?

Colonel: I would say that four or five primary schools and a combination junior-senior high ought to handle it. We can build them out of the pre-fab material left over from the housing units. We'll also need playground equipment, basketballs, baseballs, tennis rackets and a few thousand sets of golf clubs. We can build a golf course if they don't have one there.

General: I suppose you want to build a new airfield?

Colonel: No need to have that item in our budget, sir. The Air Force always builds one. I suspect they will chip in a few wings so we can make daily flights to Hong Kong to buy suits and things. Or we could rent Pan American Airways for a few years, but that might cost a little more.

General: Economy is the keynote, colonel. Did you forget anything?

Colonel: Just that we should take a long lease on all the movie theaters in the area, plus a few thousand houses. Oh, and one big mansion.

General: I can understand the theaters and houses, but why the mansion?

Colonel: Well sir, with an installation of that size we will need a very high ranking man to command it, and he will need a big, fancy house. There would be another star in it for the man who takes over.

General: Ah, how many sand traps are you going to have on that golf course?

Father-Son Event Hosted By Masons

Pickaway Lodge No. 23, F&M, was host Saturday for its annual Father-Son banquet in the Masonic Temple.

There were 75 members and guests present for the ham dinner, served by Circleville Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Following the meal, members and guests retired to the lodge room and were officially welcomed by James Krinn, worshipful master of the lodge. Each member introduced his son or guest for the evening.

Entertainment was provided by the Two-by-Fours, a barbershop quartet from Ashville. Members are Jack Lemon, Dick Cook, Chet Peters and Don Flierl.

Door prizes were won by John Simison and J. S. Morris.

3 Ohio Republicans Ask College Student Loan OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Reps. William H. Ayres, John M. Ashbrook and Robert Taft Jr. are among the 12 Republican members of the House Education Committee which has urged prompt congressional action to extend and increase a loan program for college students.

The Republican members of the committee contended Sunday that failure of the Kennedy administration and Democratic congressional leaders to act has created "genuine hardship for thousands of students."

New Law Requires Physical Exam for School Bus Drivers

Annual physical examinations for school bus drivers are now mandatory. A new law enacted by the legislature, and signed by Governor Rhodes, gives parents added assurance that their children may be transported safely.

The law, effective Oct. 14, also requires public school bus drivers to file all traffic convictions with the county board of education or superintendent. In the case of private or parochial schools, drivers must report similarly to the school administrator or contractor. Failure to make the required reports according to the new law, serves as grounds for immediate termination of the driver's contract.

It was noted that during the last school year, Sept. 1962 to June 1963, information from the State Highway Patrol showed that 147 school bus drivers were arrested for traffic violations as the result of school bus accidents. In addition, responsibility in traffic accidents last year was definitely attributed to 949 school bus drivers.

U.S. Mediation Sought In Cleveland GE Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Federal Mediation Service has been asked to set up further negotiation sessions between management and representatives of Locals 439 and 1130 of the International Association of Machinists at the General Electric Co. vacuum cleaner plant on Ivanhoe Road.

The union membership, representing 431 GE employees, has rejected a company contract offer and authorized a strike if differences cannot be ironed out.

Heading the list of accident causes was excessive speed, which means driving too fast for road, traffic and weather conditions. Other principal causes were driving into path of other traffic, failure to yield right of way, driving to left side of center road, improper left and right turns, and other improper driver actions.

Qualifications for school bus drivers include: they must be at least 21-years-old of good moral character and qualified physically and otherwise for such a position. They also are examined by the State Highway Patrol for a special school bus chauffeur's license.

Public school bus drivers' physical examinations must conform to regulations adopted by the State Board of Education. Physical examinations for drivers in the private and parochial schools must conform to the State Highway Patrol regulations.

School bus driver may be disqualified for any of these physical disorders: abnormal heart or circulatory system, diabetes, poor hearing, blind or suspended vision in either eye, less than 20-30 corrected vision, color blind or binocular-peripheral vision of less than 140 degrees, does not have reasonable use of four extremities with thumb and at least two fingers on either hand, mentally deficient, epileptic, speech defect and other defects or chronic diseases which affect his ability to drive a school bus.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Colonel: I would say that four or five primary schools and a combination junior-senior high ought to handle it. We can build them out of the pre-fab material left over from the housing units. We'll also need playground equipment, basketballs, baseballs, tennis rackets and a few thousand sets of golf clubs. We can build a golf course if they don't have one there.

General: How many men will you need for those jobs?

Colonel: Let's see. Cooks, clerks, doctors, dentists, say about 500. With that many men in the area we'll have to set up a military mission. That means civilian secretaries, and lots of young officers to date the girls. They get lonely out in a place like that. They'll need several hundred staff cars to drive them around. I'd better order a motor pool battalion right away. And I'll need about 200 PX clerks. We can't expect our people to live off the land.

General: No, of course not. But 200 PX clerks seems like a lot just to handle cigarettes, tooth paste, things like that.

Colonel: Oh, we'll have to lay in a big supply of groceries, meats, refrigerators, bubble gum, comic books, garden swings, lawn seed, baby food—

General: Baby food? I want 100 combat men. They'll be eating C rations. What's this about baby food?

Colonel: It's for the dependents. Our mission might be over there for years. We'll have to send the families of the headquarters men. I'll call the President Lines and order up four or five passenger ships.

General: Four or five ships?

Colonel: We'll need that many because of the rotation. We'll move the families in and out every six months. We've got to carry the furniture, and the school teachers and supplies.

Things To Crow About

Men have so many things to crow about. Especially in 1963 when the "new look" in male clothing promises them that they'll end up looking like peacocks.

That's what the publicity story says. The Men's Fashion Council of Great Britain plans a revolution in formal men's wear with suits made from different but matching materials.

"Smart men will soon be wearing suits with the jackets and waistcoats tailored in different materials from the trousers," said council chairman Leslie Wealeston.

What is an example of this so-called new look for men? Wealeston says that a gray suit with a diamond-patterned jacket over plain gray trousers, and a maroon over-checked jacket worn with subtly striped trousers will make a man look like a peacock.

Awrrrk! It's strictly for the birds.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Competition can be a boon to savers as well as to the spenders. It usually is credited with helping. For consumers competition is supposed to hold down prices. For savers it can boost the rewards.

And many who could put aside a few dollars from the weekly paycheck have been able to late to get higher yields—up to five per cent from some Southern California savings institutions.

This is thanks to the competition among the many havens for savings—and also thanks to the increasing number of those who borrow. Where borrowers multiply, savers prosper — if things didn't go too far. Some warnings about that are being made now by federal agencies.

Increased interest rates, both on some forms of loans and for the savings from which loans are made, have also been influenced by international politics in today's complicated world of finance. The U.S. government has encouraged higher rates on some forms of savings, to keep money at home rather than letting it go abroad where foreigners already have too many surplus dollars for our comfort when it comes to settling international payments.

But mostly, savers have been wooed because the demand for mortgages, installment loans and other forms of credit—particularly in fast growing areas of the nation—has been so insistent that lending institutions were competing for available funds.

Competition to raise money for the mortgage market in Southern California has led several savings and loans associations to raise dividends to five per cent. This has brought an expression of concern from Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates federally chartered associations. He says "hasty rate increases" might lead to federal restrictions.

His worry is that payment of five per cent to savers can be assured only by continued heavy demand for mortgages paying higher interest. The government doesn't want building slowed by too expensive financing.

But Frank B. Yelding Jr., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, says that record mortgage lending by the nation's associations has eliminated the excess supply of savings funds they held earlier this year. Mortgage demand varies from region to region. But lenders insist that increasing population means still greater demand for housing.

Competition for savings — and for profitable loans — has been growing among many other forms of savings institutions. Commercial banks have been paying more on time deposits, and in many places savings banks have been raising their returns. This, plus the retirement of many small investors from the stock market swelled lendable funds.

Trimming the Overhang

So the West — and this will probably include the U.S., before these words are in print — is going to bail out an enemy by selling its wheat surplus to Khrushchev, the man who is sworn to "bury" capitalism. Where does this leave us?

The only honest answer is that nobody really knows. The history of trading with the enemy is full of ironies, and sometimes the seemingly stupid move has turned out to be the wise one, and vice versa.

Once upon a time the United States — or at least the northern half of it — saved itself by selling wheat to its enemy of the moment. This occurred during the Civil War. Everyone expected Great Britain to intervene in the war on behalf of the South, the theory being that the textile mills of Manchester just had to have that Alabama cotton. But it so happened that Britain, in the early Eighteen Sixties, had three years of crop failure. The U.S., or Abe Lincoln's half of it, contrary to all predictions, had an enormous grain surplus throughout the whole Civil War, due largely to the new McCormick reapers and mechanical improvements in plowing. So we sold the surplus to a needy Britain — and thereby kept her from taking active part in the war on the Southern side.

In Napoleonic times, Great Britain herself was pledged to keep an expanding France from controlling the world. But the British manufacturers and merchants, as benefitted a nation of shopkeepers, insisted on trading with Napoleonic Europe anyway. This seemed idiotic to those who insisted that the correct policy would have been to make Europe suffer because of its willingness to put up with Napoleon — but actually it served to build England's manufacturing and financial strength to such a point that the rest of the world had to follow British leadership for a hundred years.

Contrariwise, President Thomas Jefferson's embargo of U.S. trade with Britain in the early Napoleonic years deprived maritime New England of its living, yet failed to hurt Britain seriously.

In this question of selling wheat to Russia, the elements are crazy mixed. The short view advantage is that the sales, in effect, tend to bail out capitalism even more than Communism. Early in August the economic prognosticators were worried lest West Europe's heavy duties on U.S. frozen poultry might be extended to U.S. grain. There were doleful predictions that our wheat shipments would shrink for the rest of 1963. But now, with the Soviets buying Canadian wheat that might have gone to Europe, our traders have four million bushels of grain to West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Britain for quick autumn shipment.

If this sort of thing continues our total farm exports for the current "marketing year" that runs from July to July will reach just short of $6 billion, which will make a new record. This could reduce our stored wheat surplus by as much as two hundred million bushels, leaving us with less than a billion bushels to overhang the market. The surplus would still be slightly appalling — but, who knows, maybe further crop failures in Russia will someday trim the overhang down to practically nothing.

The chief worry in the whole business is that Khrushchev, unlike the Great Britain of the Civil War period, will not cease to be our enemy merely because we have consented to save him. But we could, if we had any brains, use wheat sales as a lever to try political concessions out of the Soviet that would put us in a position to survive in the same world with a revived Russian Communism. For every bushel of wheat that goes behind the Iron Curtain we could exact something that would help us out in the Caribbean or in the buffer region of central Europe.

The worst thing about bailing Khrushchev out by selling him wheat is that it deprives the serfs on his collective farms of the effective use of their only weapon, which is the slow-down. There is good evidence that peasant sabotage, not a failure to provide fertilizer and irrigation has made Soviet harvests disappointing for five years. If we could only find ways of using our wheat to bribe Khrushchev to be nice to his peasants.

THERE WAS a fire in the kitchen of an off-Broadway chop house recently, but it was speedily extinguished by Manhattan's crack fire laddies. Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Surgery of the heart is progressing so rapidly that innovations and advances are being regarded as routine, rather than spectacular. Heart valves are being replaced with plastic inserts, congenital defects are being successfully repaired.

Coronary blood vessels are being inspected, even freed of obstructions, by exquisitely fine techniques.

Brilliantly conceived heart-lung machines continue to supply blood to all parts of the body while all this delicate heart surgery is being performed.

And now, heart surgeons can actually stop and start the beat of the heart at will during any phase of heart surgery. A tiny electric stimulator applied to the heart makes it temporarily motionless while surgeons quickly complete a particular phase of the operation. Similarly, the heart beat is re-established.

Dr. Morris J. Levy, of the Tel-Hashomer Hospital in Tel Aviv, has been demonstrating this new technique at the University of Minnesota. His method has additional advantages over the "freezing" technique that has been successfully used to temporarily stop the heart action.

The great advantage of this electrical device is the rapidity with which the heart can be made to stop and start. In the freezing method, valuable time is consumed in the rewarming process.

The heart can be kept at a complete standstill while the heart-lung machine continues to pump life-giving blood.

From all over the world, scientific contributions are constantly being added to the stockpile of information that makes heart surgery more daring, less dangerous and more successful.

Almost every adult remembers when infections of the mastoid bone necessitated urgent operation. They may remember, too, the familiar deep holes behind the ears that remained as a permanent badge acquired in the battle against mastoiditis.

The sulfa drugs and the antibiotics were rightfully hailed as one of man's greatest medical achievements. Spectacularly, they reduced the frequency and the severity of mastoiditis. Surgery for acute infections of the mastoid is today almost non-existent.

During the past ten years, there has been a revival of mastoid surgery, but for a totally different purpose. Now it is being performed in specially selected cases to eradicate long-standing, chronically discharging ears, frequently with the hope of restoring serviceable hearing.

Mastoid surgery is often performed directly through the ear canal so that no scar is noticeable. It is now possible to inspect almost every minute part of the hearing mechanism with a surgical microscope.

The same antibiotics which so dramatically reduced the need for acute mastoid surgery have ushered in the new era of constructive mastoid surgery.

Things To Crow About

Men have so many things to crow about. Especially in 1963 when the "new look" in male clothing promises them that they'll end up looking like peacocks.

That's what the publicity story says. The Men's Fashion Council of Great Britain plans a revolution in formal men's wear with suits made from different but matching materials.

"Smart men will soon be wearing suits with the jackets and waistcoats tailored in different materials from the trousers," said council chairman Leslie Wealeston.

What is an example of this so-called new look for men? Wealeston says that a gray suit with a diamond-patterned jacket over plain gray trousers, and a maroon over-checked jacket worn with subtly striped trousers will make a man look like a peacock.

Awwrrrk! It's strictly for the birds.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Competition can be a boon to savers as well as to the spenders it usually is credited with helping. For consumers competition is supposed to hold down prices. For savers it can boost the rewards.

And many who could put aside a few dollars from the weekly paycheck have been able to live to get higher yields—up to five per cent from some Southern California savings institutions.

This is thanks to the competition among the many havens for savings—and also thanks to the increasing number of those who borrow. Where borrowers multiply, savers prosper — if things don't go too far. Some warnings about that are being made now by federal agencies.

Increased interest rates, both on some forms of loans and for the savings from which loans are made, have also been influenced by international politics in today's complicated world of finance. The U.S. government has encouraged higher rates on some forms of savings, to keep money at home rather than letting it go abroad where foreigners already have too many surplus dollars for our comfort when it comes to settling international payments.

But mostly, savers have been wooed because the demand for mortgages, installment loans and other forms of credit—particularly in fast growing areas of the nation—has been so insistent that lending institutions were competing for available funds.

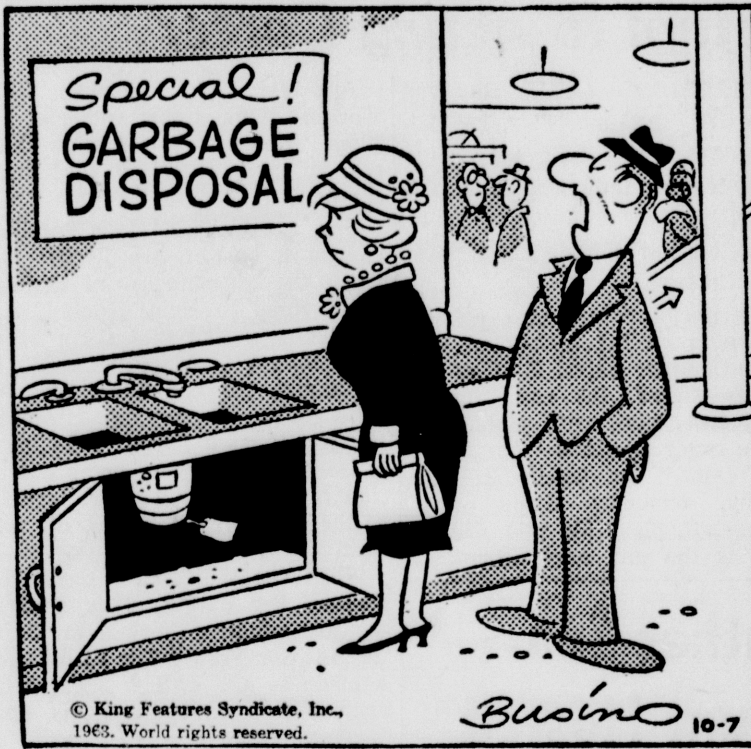

Competition to raise money for the mortgage market in Southern California has led several savings and loans associations to raise dividends to five per cent. This has brought an expression of concern from Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates federally chartered associations. He says "hasty rate increases" might lead to federal restrictions.

His worry is that payment of five per cent to savers can be assured only by continued heavy demand for mortgages paying higher interest. The government doesn't want building slowed by too expensive financing.

But Frank B. Yelding Jr., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, says that record mortgage lending by the nation's associations has eliminated the excess supply of savings funds they held earlier this year. Mortgage demand varies from region to region. But lenders insist that increasing population means still greater demand for housing.

Competition for savings — and for profitable loans — has been growing among many other forms of savings institutions. Commercial banks have been paying more on time deposits, and in many places savings banks have been raising their returns. This, plus the retirement of many small investors from the stock market swelled lendable funds.

THERE WAS a fire in the kitchen of an off-Broadway chop house recently, but it was speedily extinguished by Manhattan's crack fire ladders. Two of the latter exited from the water-gutted premises when the excitement was over with axes in their grasp. The blaze barber next door spotted them and observed to the customer he was shaving. "They must have ordered a steak in that joint!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Surgery of the heart is progressing so rapidly that innovations and advances are being regarded as routine, rather than spectacular. Heart valves are being replaced with plastic inserts, congenital defects are being successfully repaired.

Coronary blood vessels are being inspected, even freed of obstructions, by exquisitely fine techniques.

Brilliantly conceived heart-lung machines continue to supply blood to all parts of the body while all this delicate heart surgery is being performed.

And now, heart surgeons can actually stop and start the beat of the heart at will during any phase of heart surgery. A tiny electric stimulator applied to the heart makes it temporarily motionless while surgeons quickly complete a particular phase of the operation. Similarly, the heart beat is re-established.

Dr. Morris J. Levy, of the Tel-Hashomer Hospital in Tel Aviv, has been demonstrating this new technique at the University of Minnesota. His method has additional advantages over the "freezing" technique that has been successfully used to temporarily stop the heart action.

The great advantage of this electrical device is the rapidity with which the heart can be made to stop and start. In the freezing method, valuable time is consumed in the rewarming process.

The heart can be kept at a complete standstill while the heart-lung machine continues to pump life-giving blood.

From all over the world, scientific contributions are constantly being added to the stockpile of information that makes heart surgery more daring, less dangerous and more successful.

Almost every adult remembers when infections of the mastoid bone necessitated urgent operation. They may remember, too, the familiar deep holes behind the ears that remained as a permanent badge acquired in the battle against mastoiditis.

The sulfa drugs and the antibiotics were rightfully hailed as one of man's greatest medical achievements. Spectacularly, they reduced the frequency and the severity of mastoiditis. Surgery for acute infections of the mastoid is today almost non-existent.

During the past ten years, there has been a revival of mastoid surgery, but for a totally different purpose. Now it is being performed in specially selected cases to eradicate long-standing, chronically discharging ears, frequently with the hope of restoring serviceable hearing.

Mastoid surgery is often performed directly through the ear canal so that no scar is noticeable. It is now possible to inspect almost every minute part of the hearing mechanism with a surgical microscope.

The same antibiotics which so dramatically reduced the need for acute mastoid surgery have ushered in the new era of constructive mastoid surgery.

Trimming the Overhang

By John Chamberlain

So the West — and this will probably include the U.S. — before these words are in print — is going to bail out an enemy by selling its wheat surplus to Khrushchev, the man who is sworn to "bury" capitalism. Where does this leave us?

The only honest answer is that nobody really knows. The history of trading with the enemy is full of ironies, and sometimes the seemingly stupid move has turned out to be the wise one, and vice versa.

Once upon a time the United States — or at least the northern half of it — saved itself by selling wheat to its enemy of the moment. This occurred during the Civil War. Everyone expected Great Britain to intervene in the war on behalf of the South, the theory being that the textile mills of Manchester just had to have that Alabama cotton. But it so happened that Britain, in the early Eighteen Sixties, had three years of crop failure. The U.S., or Abe Lincoln's half of it, contrary to all predictions, had an enormous grain surplus throughout the whole Civil War, due largely to the new McCormick reapers and mechanical improvements in plowing. So we sold the surplus to a needy Britain — and thereby kept her from taking active part in the war on the Southern side.

In Napoleonic times, Great Britain herself was pledged to keep an expanding France from controlling the world. But the British manufacturers and merchants, as benefitted a nation of shopkeepers, insisted on trading with Napoleonic Europe anyway. This seemed idiotic to those who insisted that the correct policy would have been to make Europe suffer because of its willingness to put up with Napoleon — but actually it served to build England's manufacturing and financial strength to such a point that the rest of the world had to follow British leadership for a hundred years.

Contrariwise, President Thomas Jefferson's embargo of U.S. trade with Britain in the early Napoleonic years deprived maritime New England of its living, yet failed to hurt Britain seriously.

In this question of selling wheat to Russia, the elements are crazily mixed. The short view advantage is that the sales, in effect, tend to bail out capitalism even more than Communism. Early in August the economic prognosticators were worried lest West Europe's heavy duties on U.S. frozen poultry might be extended to U.S. grain. There were doleful predictions that our wheat shipments would shrink for the rest of 1963. But now, with the Soviets buying Canadian wheat that might have gone to Europe, our traders have four million bushels of grain to West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Britain for quick autumn shipment.

If this sort of thing continues our total farm exports for the current "marketing year" that runs from July to July will reach just short of $6 billion, which will make a new record. This could reduce our stored wheat surplus by as much as two hundred million bushels, leaving us with less than a billion bushels to overhang the market. The surplus would still be slightly appalling — but, who knows, maybe further crop failures in Russia will someday trim the overhang down to practically nothing.

The chief worry in the whole business is that Khrushchev, unlike the Great Britain of the Civil War period, will not cease to be our enemy merely because we have consented to save him. But we could, if we had any brains, use wheat sales as a lever to try political concessions out of the Soviet that would put us in a position to survive in the same world with a revived Russian Communism. For every bushel of wheat that goes behind the Iron Curtain we could exact something that would help us out in the Caribbean or in the buffer region of central Europe.

Special Toledo Election Due

Charter Change Faces Decision on Tuesday

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo residents or at least the 138,399 who are registered voters, can go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots in a councilmanic primary here and also decide the fate of a four - part amendment to the city charter.

The board of elections had predicted only about 45,000 will vote and veteran political observers say that figure probably is high.

Twenty-eight persons are running for the nine City Council seats. Tuesday's vote will trim the field to 18 who will vie in the Nov. 9 general election. All current councilmen are seeking reelection. The Republicans now have an 8-1 control of the council.

The four-part amendment, which will take one yes or no vote, calls for direct election of the mayor, specified qualifications of a city manager, specifies the method of nominating a city manager, and changes the municipal primary election date from October to May.

Toledo mayors now are elected by councilmen from their ranks. If approved, the sections pertaining to the election of a mayor and the changing of the primary date would take effect in 1965. The sections pertaining to the city's manager's qualifications and nominations would become effective as soon as a vacancy occurs in the manager's post.

Proponents of changing the primary date contend it is necessary if the board of elections is to be able to utilize new voting machines for both primary and general elections. However, Arthur S. Johnson, executive secretary of the Greater Municipal League, said representatives of the company selling the machines to the county have told commissioners that with some additional help the board of election could utilize the machine without changing the primary date.

Fourth Quarter Business Looks Good

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Business sailed into the crucial 1963 fourth quarter last week with its flags still flying briskly.

While some apprehension was expressed over the fact that the economic uptrend had reached the ripe old age of 30 months most indications were that it remained on an even keel.

The week was marked by in-

HYPNOTISM STICKS — Teresa Carol Fletcher, 13, is under psychiatric care after being hypnotized and failing to throw off the trance at a high school magic show in Elizabethton, Tenn., and C. H. Cunningham, 55, a textile worker whose hobby is magic, faces assault charges. She volunteered for the hypnotism, but after it was over she kept lapsing into hysteria.

The daily high temperature in Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam averages from 87 to 95 degrees the year round.

creases in steel and aluminum prices, gains in automobile and steel production, and anticipation that Soviet Russia might buy millions of tons of wheat from the United States.

But interest in economic developments had to vie with the distraction of the World Series.

The consensus seemed to be that business came through the third quarter in healthy condition and that the outlook for the balance of the year is good.

A survey indicated that a key group of businessmen — purchasing agents who buy billions of dollars worth of supplies and equipment for corporations—are becoming more and more optimistic about the business outlook.

Some economists already are turning their eyes to 1964. The First National Bank of Boston commented that 1964 "could be another year of favorable business growth."

Another early forecast came from the National Association of Business Economists, which predicted a rise of about 4.5 per cent in the gross national product — a total of all goods and services—next year. That is slightly better than the increase being posted this year.

The new round of selective steel price increases — second since the ice was broken last April — held the promise of better profits for the financially beleaguered steel industry.

Most major producers joined in an increase in the price of bars and semifinished steel initiated by Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. The next moves came from Bethlehem Steel Corp., which raised the price of carbon steel plates $5 a ton, and Inland Steel Co., which boosted structural steel shapes $4 a ton.

If all producers go along with the latest increase, it will mean that prices will have gone up on two-thirds of the industry's products.

The possibility that Soviet Russia might buy 200 million bushels of U.S. wheat for $300 million stirred interest in farm, business and government circles. While no official offer had been made, President Kennedy was reported considering favorably such trade

Opinion in the wheat-growing areas appeared to be predominantly in favor of selling to the Russians.

The next moves came from Bethlehem Steel Corp., which raised the price of carbon steel plates $5 a ton, and Inland Steel Co., which boosted structural steel shapes $4 a ton.

If all producers go along with the latest increase, it will mean that prices will have gone up on two-thirds of the industry's products.

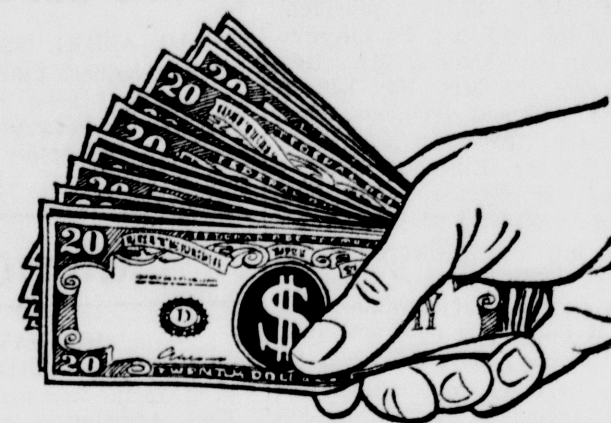

The possibility that Soviet Russia might buy 200 million bushels of U.S. wheat for $300 million stirred interest in farm, business and government circles. While no official offer had been made, President Kennedy was reported considering favorably such trade. Opinion in the wheat-growing areas appeared to be predominantly in favor of selling to the Russians.

Earlier in the evening CES in a sudden switch broadcast the "Judy Garland Show" that was shot a few days ago instead of the program originally scheduled.

Whatever the reason for the change, it was a real swinging hour. Judy was much less nervous than during the first show and also had a chance to do a lot of singing.

Barbra Streisand proved a stimulating guest star and was given a chance to belt a few songs in her own style as well as sing along with Judy. There was a surprise appearance by the dean of the belters, Ethel Merman, and the funny Smothers Brothers helped too.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

What's Sauce for Goose

DEAR ABBY: My problem is one that bothers thousands of other GI's so I hope you will print your answer because it is needed badly. I am a happily married man with a wonderful wife and two small children back in the States. I've been in Korea for four months After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy man supposed to do for his physical needs? There are 12 women practically throwing themselves at my feet. Don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my wife and always will, but I have another twenty months to go, and I am only human. This letter is sincere and I am not ashamed to sign my name, but if you use it, please sign me,

"JERSEY"

DEAR "JERSEY": Assume for a moment that I received the following letter:

"DEAR ABBY: 'I am a happily married woman with a wonderful husband and two small children. My husband has been in Korea for four months. After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young healthy woman supposed to do for her physical needs? There are plenty of men around, and when they learn that my husband is in Korea, they practically throw themselves at my feet. Don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my husband and always will, but I have another twenty months to wait, and I am only human.'

"JERSEY'S WIFE"

Well, Jersey, I would tell that woman to keep as busy as possible with her duties and as many wholesome activities as her time and energy permit. I'd suggest reading, exhausting physical exercise, and yes, even prayer. I'd tell her to stay sober and to avoid temptation, and to write to you every day! And that, Jersey, is my answer to you, and to all your buddies in the same lonesome boat.

Sincerely, ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I would like to have your opinion of when and when not to wear a hat. I love hats, but think there is a time and place for them. It is football season again and my husband thinks I ought to wear a hat to the games. I disagree. Aren't hats too dressy for football games? I notice that in the afternoon most of the older women wear hats, but the younger ones hardly ever do. I want to be well-dressed. Can you help me?

HATLESS

DEAR HATLESS: "Girls" do not wear hats, but women—the well-dressed ones—do for all outdoor occasions from garden parties to football games. . . . No outfit is complete without a hat! The only place you don't wear one is to bed.

NEW YORK (AP) — It would have been great if every viewer who watched "Elizabeth Taylor in London" Sunday night had been able to take the hour-long trip through the old city with the aid of a color television set. The show was stunning in its beauty.

Miss Taylor—whose qualification for CBS tour guide was that she was born in Hampstead and lived there until she was 7—was almost unbelievably beautiful, too.

Sooners Await Shot at Texas

No. 1 Rated Team
To Have Hands Full

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At the risk of corn as high as an elephant's eye, may it be pointed out that Oklahoma had its beautiful morning against Southern Cal. But whether it develops into a beautiful day depends on this weekend's events in the Cotton Bowl.

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson, whose scrambling Sooners gained the top spot in the national college football ratings with a victory over then No. 1 Southern Cal., brought back a partial forecast after scouting Texas against Oklahoma State Saturday night.

Chances are that his notes are less than enthusiastic. The Longhorns, ranked third in the nation and 3-0 for the year, romped 34-7 and may have been playing under wraps for Wilkinson's benefit.

Oklahoma was idle and takes a 2-0 mark into the clash with Texas at Dallas the big one on the weekend schedule and one of the most fierce rivalries in the country.

While Texas enhanced its No. 3 rating at the expense of Oklahoma State, two other members of the Top Ten fell by the wayside. No. 5 Northwestern was edged by Illinois 10-9 and No. 7 Georgia Tech lost to Louisiana State 7-6.

Second-ranked Alabama, No. 6 Navy, No. 8 Southern California, No. 9 Pittsburgh and No. 10 Mississippi each won as expected. Wisconsin, ranked fourth, was idle, resting up for a key game with Purdue this weekend. The Boilermakers edged Notre Dame 7-6.

Jim Plankenhorn's conversion and a 21-yard field goal were key contributions to Illinois' upset of Northwestern. A bad pass from center ruined Northwestern's chance for conversion.

Alabama won its third in a row, bolting past Vanderbilt 21-6 at Nashville with Benny Nelson scoring on runs of 50 and 97 yards. Navy, also 3-0, got another inspired performance from Roger Staubach in a 26-13 triumph at Michigan. Staubach completed 14 of 16 passes for two touchdowns and 237 yards and scored another on a five-yard run.

Southern Cal. 2-1, had to rally in the last quarter for a 13-10 edge over Michigan State at Los Angeles; Pitt won its third straight from West Coast powers, clubbing California 35-15 at Pittsburgh and Perry Dunn threw two touchdown passes in Mississippi's 20-6 victory at Houston.

Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils scored their third straight, a 30-12 decision over Maryland in the national television game.

Fyffe received a knee injury The bruising Tiger fullback is still on crutches today. He was scheduled for a visit with the doctor after school.

Saturday morning X-rays indicated there were no broken bones. His mother, Mrs. Dessel Fyffe, said he kept the injured knee covered with ice packs during the weekend. But there was still a noticeable swelling. Indications are it is too early to tell whether he will be ready for the game Friday at Wilmington.

LIST received a head injury which left him a little dazed. CHS coaches today listed him as fully recovered.

The balloting for the top Tiger linemen was extremely close with John Pharr, Mike Ramey, Bob Purcell and Howard Fletcher all in contention.

Dave Bass, defensive safety who intercepted two passes, was graded high by the coaching staff. Jack Martin led in the tackle department. He was credited with eight individuals and five assists. Pharr had five and one assist.

The pass interception by Gary Betts and the ensuing run accounted for the most Tiger Heads, the award given individuals for key plays.

Key blocks that allowed the Circleville defensive cornerman to go the distance earned Tiger Heads for Howard Dade, Bob Purcell, Mick Tomlinson and Mike Ramey.

TOMLINSON also came in for special mention from the coaching staff for his defensive work at line-backer. He filled in for Fyffe after he was injured.

Other Tiger heads were won by Mansil Hurlbut, Ed Smith and Jim McCoskey for kickoff tackles; John Hatcher and Pharr, punt tackles; Howard Fletcher, a recovered fumble.

Westfall Boosters Slate Grid Fete

The Westfall School District Athletic Booster Club will host candidates who were members of the practice football squad to a banquet Friday at Jackson Twp. High School.

The honor dinner is slated to begin at 7 p. m. It will be a carry-in. Students from Jackson, Williamsport, Monroe and Darby competed in the practice schedule. Asa Elisea is grid coach for the consolidated district.

Royals Lose to Knicks In Exhibition Match

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The New York Knicks turned in a strong second half Sunday night to whip Cincinnati 117-102 in a National Basketball Association exhibition game.

Richie Guerin paced the victors with 21 points, but high point honors went to Oscar Robertson of the Royals with 28. Jerry Lucas, the Royals' hotshot rookie, was limited to nine.

Inexperienced First Baseman Listed as 'Goat' of Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"There's no substitute for experience." Thus commented wise old Casey Stengel last Wednesday only minutes before the first ball was thrown in Yankee Stadium to begin the Los Angeles Dodgers' four game sweep from the Yanks. Stengel was comparing Bill (Moose) Skowron, longtime Yankee hero who was traded to the Dodgers during the winter to make room for 22-year-old Joe Pepitone at first base.

Today, amidst the ashes of the series, the veteran Skowron emerges as one of the Dodgers' heroes. Pepitone, with one of the most costly errors in baseball history, is the goat.

"S-O-B....," cursed the slender, likable Italian youth from Brooklyn. "You play good all season and then blow the big game. It has to happen to somebody and I guess it might as well be me."

As Pepitone tossed off his socks Sunday in the Yankee dressing room—a place that resembled the main mausoleum at Forest Lawn in many ways, he added:

"Clete's throw was good. I lost it in the crowd. I just saw a white spot. It hit my wrist, then my forearm and finally my chest—every place but my glove."

Clete Boyer, going three feet in the air like a graceful bird, made a sensational stop of Jim Gilliam's hard smash down the third baseline in the seventh with the score tied 1-1.

Boyer, with one of the surest arms in baseball made a perfect throw. But it sailed past Pepitone and rolled toward the stands. By the time Pepitone retrieved the ball, Gilliam was on third base on what should have been an out.

Then Willie Davis drove a long fly to Mickey Mantle in center. The Mick threw a strike to home plate but Gilliam could have crawled the last 20 feet and still have scored.

Skowron, who batted only .203 during the regular season, hit .385 for the Series—even with a hitless day in three times up in the final game.

In the Dodgers' dressing room, Skowron's teammates happily sang a parody on Walt Disney's Mouseketeers song—but the Dodger version in tribute to one of the happier trades of the year, was called "Mickey Moose."

Over in the solemn Yankee dressing room, no one sang—or even smiled.

No official figures can be released until commissioner Ford Frick's office has checked and double checked the figures. That probably won't be finished for several days. Frick's office also comes up with the pay checks for the players on the second, third, fourth and fifth place clubs, all of whom probably will receive record slices.

The player pool of $1,017,460.43 was a record, surpassing the old mark of $893,301.40 for the Dodger Chicago White Sox Series in 1959.

The players get the lion's share of the money in the first four games. After that the money is divided four ways among the two participating club owners and the two leagues after taxes and the commissioner's 1 per cent are deducted.

Each club and league would have pocketed about $109,000 if a fifth game had been played Monday at Dodger Stadium.

Water Fowl Identification Clinic Set

A duck identification clinic, conducted by Pickaway County game protector Dick Wolfrom, will precede a regular meeting of the Farmer's and Sportsmen's Assn. Thursday it was announced today by Dick Redman, secretary.

The clinic, slated to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Fairgrounds, is open to the public.

Color slides of ducks in flight will be shown by Wolfrom. Also there will be mounted specimens of various ducks.

A general discussion of the duck situation and the season is also on tap, according to Redman.

Because of the complexity of the duck laws and the bag limitations of the various species, the clinic should be an excellent aid to waterfowl hunters.

BUICK SPOTLIGHTS

ENGINES,
TRANSMISSIONS
IN '64 LINE

Flint — Buick talked about engines and transmissions last week at its '64 model press preview at Warwick Hills Country Club here.

EDWARD D. ROLLERT, general manager of Buick and Vice President of General Motors, called the two new transmissions "THE GREATEST ADVANCE EVER MADE IN THE FIELD OF AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION".

Under its new engine-transmission set up, Buick will offer a lower-priced LeSabre series.

Buick also showed a larger, roomier Special on a 115-inch wheelbase, a 2 inch increase over '63. At 203 inches, the car is nearly 11 inches longer than last year, and body-frame construction is used instead of the unitized body.

With 26 models, six engines, including V-6 and V-8's, four transmissions, including the two new automatic Super Turbine 300 and 400, Buick will have a car that 90% of the new car buyers can buy.

Buick's new automatic transmissions are called Super Turbine 300 and Super Turbine 400. Rollert said they are an evolution of the original torque-converter transmission. Dynaflo, which Buick introduced in 1948. HERE IS ONE THAT YOU WILL HEAR A LOT ABOUT IN 1964.

"Our new transmissions are the most important single development in the long history of the torque-converter," Rollert declared.

He said the new units deliver up to 43% more wheel thrust, which means more-responsive acceleration. He claimed they are more economical and said that test with the LeSabre showed gasoline savings as high as 20 percent.

Other advantages, Rollert said, they are lighter weight and have fewer working parts.

Rollert predicted another excellent year for Buick and noted that the division's sales have risen from 254,000 in the '60 model year to 458,000 in the '63 model season, a gain of 81 percent.

Buick used-car values are up. Rollert said a two-year-old Buick currently brings $220 more on the used-car market than a two-year-old Buick did in 1961.

Long Dodger Dynasty Seen As Yankee System Fades

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' incredible four-game World Series sweep over the New York Yankees could be the start of a new dynasty and the end of an old one.

The world champion Dodgers, loaded with youth, speed, confidence, pep and pitching, could rule the National League for years to come.

The ability to draw upwards of two million annually in this ever-growing area and their spacious new stadium is bound to pour additional millions of dollars into an already bulging treasury and enable the front office to pay handsome bonuses to promising youngsters.

The humiliating four-game downfall not only is a loss to the Yankees' pride and prestige but is bound to encourage the rest of the American League clubs which have acted as puppeteers on Yankee strings for many, many years.

Sandy Koufax' brilliant pitching Sunday in the 2-1 Dodger haymaker proved again what Dodger pitching had shown during the entire series — that strong pitching can beat good hitting teams, even such power hitting teams like the Yankees.

The three Dodger starters—Johnny Podres, Don Drysdale and Koufax, with an assist from relief ace Ron Perranoski, stifled the Yankee sluggers with only 22 hits, an average of under six per game. Koufax, who started the sweep with a 5-2 victory over Whitey Ford in the opener, permitted only six hits Sunday and lost his shutout when Mickey Mantle homered in the seventh.

The Yankees scored only four runs in four games.

"The Dodgers' great pitching beat us, nothing else," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who accepted the defeat, his first in three World Series, philosophical.

"I've never seen such tremendous pitching all around in my 10 years with the Dodgers," said Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston, who also had led Dodger teams to world championships in 1955 and 1959.

The Dodgers didn't exactly knock down any fences. They amassed only 25 hits, two Sunday, but as Alston said: "We got our hits when they counted the most. That's the way we've played all year."

Ford, who lost both the first and fourth games, pitched brilliantly Sunday. He permitted only two hits, both by big Frank Howard, who broke a scoreless pitching duel with a 450-foot home run in the fifth inning.

The winning run was unearned. It came in the bottom of the seventh after the Yankees had evened the score on Mantle's 15th series home run, which tied Babe Ruth's record for most homers in series play.

Jim Gilliam opened the Dodgers' seventh with a bouncer to third. Clete Boyer made a leaping stop and good throw to first but Joe Pepitone let the ball go through him. By the time the first baseman had retrieved the bounding ball, Gilliam was on third, from where he scored on Willie Davis' sacrifice fly to Mantle in deep right center.

"I lost the ball in the sun and in the white shirts of the grandstands," Pepitone explained later. "It hit my wrist, then my forearm, then my chest. All I could see was shirts."

Pep's misplay was the only Yankee error of the series.

Koufax, the series hero with two victories, fanned eight Sunday to boost his two-game total to 23, a record for a series of seven games or less. It was only the second time the Dodgers had beaten the Yankees in eight post season classics. The only other win came in 1955 when the Dodgers were in Brooklyn.

Fyffe and List 'Players of Week'

Duke Fyffe and Joe List have been named "Players of the Week" by the Circleville High School coaching staff.

The two players sparked the 7-0 defeat the Tigers handed the Washington C. H. Blue Lions Friday night. Both were injured during the second half of play.

Fyffe received a knee injury The bruising Tiger fullback is still on crutches today. He was scheduled for a visit with the doctor after school.

Saturday morning X-rays indicated there were no broken bones. His mother, Mrs. Dessel Fyffe, said he kept the injured knee covered with ice packs during the weekend. But there was still a noticeable swelling. Indications are it is too early to tell whether he will be ready for the game Friday at Wilmington.

LIST received a head injury which left him a little dazed. CHS coaches today listed him as fully recovered.

The balloting for the top Tiger lineman was extremely close with John Pharr, Mike Ramey, Bob Purcell and Howard Fletcher all in contention.

Dave Bass, defensive safety who intercepted two passes, was graded high by the coaching staff.

Jack Martin led in the tackle department. He was credited with eight individuals and five assists. Pharr had five and one assist.

The pass interception by Gary Betts and the ensuing run accounted for the most Tiger Heads, the award given individuals for key plays.

Key blocks that allowed the Circleville defensive cornerman to go the distance earned Tiger Heads for Howard Dade, Bob Purcell, Mick Tomlinson and Mike Ramey.

TOMLINSON also came in for special mention from the coaching staff for his defensive work at line-backer. He filled in for Fyffe after he was injured.

Other Tiger heads were won by Mansel Hurlbut, Ed Smith and Jim McCoskey for kickoff tackles; John Hatcher and Pharr, punt tackles; Howard Fletcher, a recovered fumble.

Royals Lose to Knicks In Exhibition Match

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The New York Knicks turned in a strong second half Sunday night to whip Cincinnati 117-102 in a National Basketball Association exhibition game.

Richie Guerin paced the victors with 21 points, but high point honors went to Oscar Robertson of the Royals with 28. Jerry Lucas, the Royals' hotshot rookie, was limited to nine.

Inexperienced First Baseman Listed as 'Goat' of Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"There's no substitute for experience." Thus commented wise old Casey Stengel last Wednesday only minutes before the first ball was thrown in Yankee Stadium to begin the Los Angeles Dodgers' four game sweep from the Yanks.

Stengel was comparing Bill

(Moose) Skowron, longtime Yankee hero who was traded to the Dodgers during the winter to make room for 22-year-old Joe Pepitone at first base.

Today, amidst the ashes of the series, the veteran Skowron emerges as one of the Dodgers' heroes. Pepitone, with one of the most costly errors in baseball history, is the goat.

"S-O-B---," cursed the slender, likable Italian youth from Brooklyn. "You play good all season and then blow the big game. It has to happen to somebody and I guess it might as well be me."

As Pepitone tossed off his socks Sunday in the Yankee dressing room—a place that resembled the main mausoleum at Forest Lawn in many ways, he added:

"Clete's throw was good. I lost it in the crowd. I just saw a white spot. It hit my wrist, then my forearm and finally my chest—every place but my glove."

Clete Boyer, going three feet in the air like a graceful bird, made a sensational stop of Jim Gilliam's hard smash down the third baseline in the seventh with the score tied 1-1.

Boyer, with one of the surest arms in baseball made a perfect throw. But it sailed past Pepitone and rolled toward the stands. By the time Pepitone retrieved the ball, Gilliam was on third base on what should have been an out.

Then Willie Davis drove a long fly to Mickey Mantle in center. The Mick threw a strike to home plate but Gilliam could have crawled the last 20 feet and still have scored.

Skowron, who batted only .203 during the regular season, hit .385 for the Series—even with a hitless day in three times up in the final game.

In the Dodgers' dressing room, Skowron's teammates happily sang a parody on Walt Disney's Mousketeers song—but the Dodger version in tribute to one of the happier trades of the year, was called "Mickey Moose."

Over in the solemn Yankee dressing room, no one sang—or even smiled.

Water Fowl Identification Clinic Set

A duck identification clinic, conducted by Pickaway County game protector Dick Wolforn, will precede a regular meeting of the Farmer's and Sportsmen's Assn. Thursday it was announced today by Dick Redman, secretary.

The clinic, slated to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Fairgrounds, is open to the public.

Color slides of ducks in flight will be shown by Wolforn. Also there will be mounted specimens of various ducks.

A general discussion of the duck situation and the season is also on tap, according to Redman.

Because of the complexity of the duck laws and the bag limitations of the various species, the clinic should be an excellent aid to waterfowl hunters.

Record Cash Pot Due for Series Players

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Baseball is just a sport, the law says, but sometimes it adds up to pretty good money, too. Each winning Dodger may take home about $12,900 and each losing Yankee can console himself with about $8,100 from the World Series player pot. Both will be records.

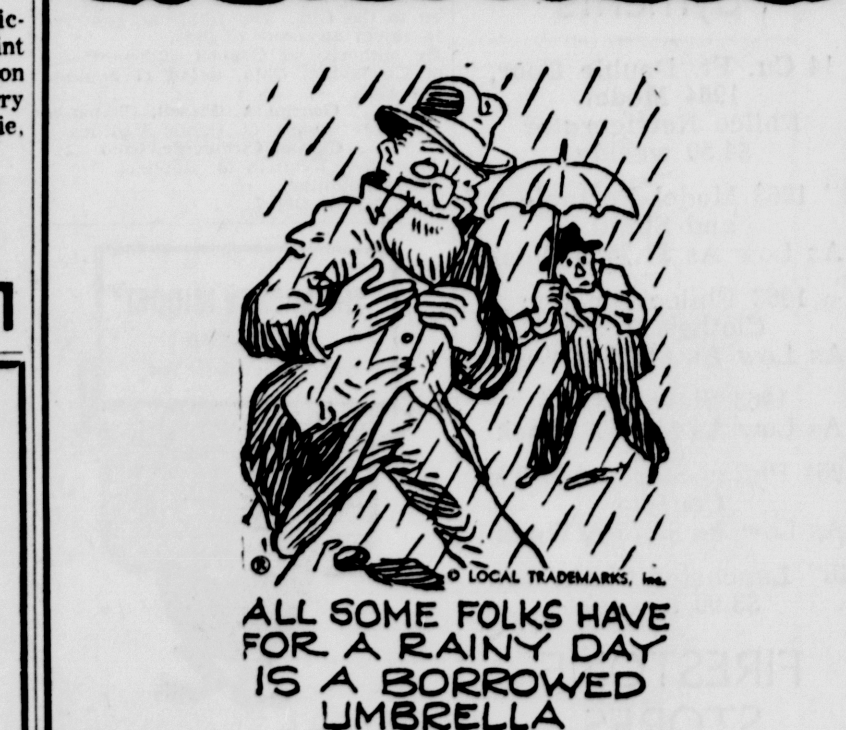

No official figures can be released until commissioner Ford Frick's office has checked and double checked the figures. That probably won't be finished for several days. Frick's office also comes up with the pay checks for the players on the second, third, fourth and fifth place clubs, all of whom probably will receive record slices.

The player pool of $1,017,460.43 was a record, bypassing the old mark of $893,301.40 for the Dodger Chicago White Sox Series in 1959.

The players get the lion's share of the money in the first four games. After that the money is divided four ways among the two participating club owners and the two leagues after taxes and the commissioner's 1 per cent are deducted.

Each club and league would have pocketed about $109,000 if a fifth game had been played Monday at Dodger Stadium.

Wanted! - Men - Women from ages 18 to 52 Prepare now for U S Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay as high as $446.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

LINCOLN SERVICE, Dept. 326 Pekin, Illinois
I am very much interested. Please send me absolutely FREE (1) A list of U S Government positions and salaries; (2) Information on how to qualify for a U. S. Government Job.

Bowling Green Looks Like Big Football Power

Mid-Am Conference Given Notice by Mighty Falcon '11'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coach Doyt Perry's Bowling Green football team is rolling and that spells trouble for Mid-American Conference rivals.

The Falcons scored their third straight triumph Saturday in impressive fashion, blanking Dayton 28-0.

Bowling Green, which earlier turned back Detroit and Southern Illinois, opens its MAC schedule this week in a home encounter against Western Michigan.

The BeeGees will be shooting for a third straight title and appear solid enough to rule the favorite. Perry's tough defensive line limited Dayton to 92 yards. The victory was the 200th for the school in its 45 years of competition.

In other top games Saturday, Ohio State scored its second straight success and second consecutive shutout, 21-0 over tough Indiana; Ohio University took a temporary hold on the MAC top spot with a 20-0 whitewashing of Kent State, and Miami finally broke into the victory column by edging Western Michigan 27-19.

Don Unverferth fired two touchdown passes and Dick Van Raaphorst kicked two field goals to pace the Buckeye triumph. One of Van Raaphorst's boots, a 48-yarder, established a Big Ten record for distance.

Once again, it was a stubborn Ohio defense that proved the deciding factor. The Bucks tangle with Illinois in a homecoming tiff this Saturday that will leave the winner atop the loop standings.

Capt. Jim Albert scored twice, once on a 53-yard jaunt, to lead Ohio U's. Bobcats. It was the second straight decision for Coach Bill Hess' charges after an opening setback.

Miami scored in every quarter at Kalamazoo as Tom Longworth led the way with two touchdowns.

In another MAC contest, Marshall capitalized on a Toledo fumble with only 90 seconds left to cop a 19-18 verdict. Hard-luck Toledo now has three straight losses although outscored only 59-51.

There were plenty of thrills and individual standouts in the 15-member Ohio Conference. Wittenberg trounced Heidelberg 48-0 behind the five-touchdown performance of quarterback Charlie Green. End Bob Cherry was on the receiving end of three of the paydirt pitches.

Fullback John Lahoski scored on touchdown runs of 8 and 41 yards as Akron overpowered Ohio Wesleyan 36-7; Jack Wilson's extra point boot gave Denison a 7-6 thriller over Muskingum; Otterbein's 42-2 romp over Kenyon was featured by a 93-yard pass play from Otter quarterback Dave Kull to end Ray Leffler. It was the longest TD pass connection in OC history.

Ron Paxson threw three touchdown passes in a losing cause as Capital bowed to Baldwin-Wallace 41-25, and Mount Union nipped Wooster 10-7 as halfback Joe Ferrante returned a kickoff 91 yards for the loser's only tally.

In other highlights, hard-hitting Cincinnati took advantage of three Xavier fumbles to beat its cross-city rivals 35-22; Youngstown withstood a late rally to topple McMurry (Tex.) 17-12; Mike Goings, the nation's second best small college scorer last year, scored twice in Bluffton's 30-24 victory over Grand Rapids JC, and Thiel turned back Case Tech 32-28 with the losers two inches from the goal line when the game ended.

In Mid-Ohio Conference activity, Defiance edged Wilmington 7-0.

In other attractions this week, Miami visits Kent State and Ohio U. journeys to Toledo for MAC action; Capital is at home to Wittenberg, Cincinnati plays at Tulsa and Dayton tangles with Louisville in the Kentucky city.

Bench-Riding QB Passes Bears to Vital NFL Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sandy Koufax has made his last pitch. Rudy Bukich has made his first.

It adds up to four in a row for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago Bears.

Bukich, a 30-year-old journeyman quarterback came off the bench Sunday for the first time this season and connected on a 44-yard pass play to Ronnie Bull that accounted for the game's lone touchdown as the Bears remained undefeated with a 10-3 victory over Baltimore.

An eight-year National Football League veteran Bukich has sat on the bench so often during his career he has averaged only 40 passes a year. This season as understudy to Billy Wade he had not made even one in the Bears' first three games.

In the third quarter against the Colts, with the Bears trailing 3-0 and Wade ineffective, Bukich got the call. He made the right one with 9:18 remaining in the last quarter, firing a pass over the middle to Bull, who rambled the rest of the way for the clincher.

The victory kept the Bears one game in front of the defending league champion Green Bay Packers, who set the tone against Los Angeles on Herb Adderley's 98-yard touchdown run with the opening kickoff and went on to crush the winless Rams 42-10.

St. Louis and New York, 3-1 as are the Packers, moved past Pittsburgh into the runner-up spot in the Eastern Division behind front-running Cleveland. The Browns whipped the Steelers in a Saturday night game 35-23 as Frank Ryan passed for three touchdowns and scored once.

The Cardinals and Giants had similar performances from their quarterbacks. St. Louis' Charlie Johnson threw three touchdown passes and gained 301 yards in a 56-14 walloping of Minnesota while New York's Y. A. Tittle passed for three TDs and 302 yards in a 24-14 decision over Washington.

In the other games, Detroit ruined Jack Christiansen's debut as San Francisco head coach by whipping the 49ers 26-3 and Philadelphia edged Dallas 24-21. With capacity crowds at all but Minnesota and Detroit, the seven-game program drew a record 358,807 fans.

Denver knocked off the American Football League's last undefeated team, beating San Diego 50-34. In other weekend action, Kansas City defeated Houston 28-7, New York downed Boston 31-24 and Buffalo beat Oakland 12-0.

The Colts took a 3-0 lead in the third quarter on Jim Martin's 16-yard field goal, and Roger LeClerc matched that with a 17-yarder for the Bears after the Bukich to Bull pass pulled it out. In all, Bukich completed six of seven passes for 112 yards.

Bowling Green Looks Like Big Football Power

Mid-Am Conference Given Notice by Mighty Falcon '11'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coach Doyt Perry's Bowling Green football team is rolling and that spells trouble for Mid-American Conference rivals.

The Falcons scored their third straight triumph Saturday in impressive fashion, blanking Dayton 28-0.

Bowling Green, which earlier turned back Detroit and Southern Illinois, opens its MAC schedule this week in a home encounter against Western Michigan.

The BeeGees will be shooting for a third straight title and appear solid enough to rule the favorite. Perry's tough defensive line limited Dayton to 92 yards. The victory was the 20th for the school in its 45 years of competition.

In other top games Saturday, Ohio State scored its second straight success and second consecutive shutout, 21-0 over tough Indiana; Ohio University took a temporary hold on the MAC top spot with a 20-0 whitewashing of Kent State, and Miami finally broke into the victory column by edging Western Michigan 27-19.

Don Unverferth fired two touchdown passes and Dick Van Raaphorst kicked two field goals to pace the Buckeye triumph. One of Van Raaphorst's boots, a 48-yarder, established a Big Ten record for distance.

Once again, it was a stubborn Ohio defense that proved the deciding factor. The Bucks tangle with Illinois in a homecoming tiff this Saturday that will leave the winner atop the loop standings.

Capt. Jim Albert scored twice, once on a 53-yard jaunt, to lead Ohio U's. Bobcats. It was the second straight decision for Coach Bill Hess' charges after an opening setback.

Miami scored in every quarter at Kalamazoo as Tom Longworth led the way with two touchdowns.

In another MAC contest, Marshall capitalized on a Toledo fumble with only 90 seconds left to cap a 19-18 verdict. Hard-luck Toledo now has three straight losses although outscored only 59-51.

There were plenty of thrills and individual standouts in the 15-member Ohio Conference. Wittenberg trounced Heidelberg 48-0 behind the five-touchdown performance of quarterback Charlie Green. End Bob Cherry was on the receiving end of three of the payoff pitches.

Fullback John Lahoski scored on touchdown runs of 8 and 41 yards as Akron overpowered Ohio Wesleyan 36-7; Jack Wilson's extra point boot gave Denison a 7-6 thriller over Muskingum; Otterbein's 42-2 romp over Kenyon was featured by a 93-yard pass play from Otter quarterback Dave Kull to end Ray Leffler. It was the longest TD pass connection in OC history.

Ron Paxson threw three touchdown passes in a losing cause as Capital bowed to Baldwin-Wallace 41-25, and Mount Union nipped Wooster 10-7 as halfback Joe Ferrante returned a kickoff 91 yards for the loser's only tally.

In other highlights, hard-hitting Cincinnati took advantage of three Xavier fumbles to beat its cross-city rivals 35-22; Youngstown withstood a late rally to topple McMurry (Tex.) 17-12; Mike Gings, the nation's second best small college scorer last year, scored twice in Bluffton's 30-24 victory over Grand Rapids JC, and Thiel turned back Case Tech 32-28 with the losers two inches from the goal line when the game ended.

In Mid-Ohio Conference activity, Defiance edged Wilmington 7-0. In other attractions this week, Miami visits Kent State and Ohio U. journeys to Toledo for MAC action; Capital is at home to Wittenberg, Cincinnati plays at Tulsa and Dayton tangles with Louisville in the Kentucky city.

Dave Robinson, Green Bays No. 1 draft choice from Penn State, has a chance to crack the Packer lineup this season.

Bench-Riding QB Passes Bears to Vital NFL Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sandy Koufax has made his last pitch. Rudy Bukich has made his first.

It adds up to four in a row for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago Bears.

Bukich, a 30-year-old journeyman quarterback came off the bench Sunday for the first time this season and connected on a 44-yard pass play to Ronnie Bull that accounted for the game's lone touchdown as the Bears remained undefeated with a 10-3 victory over Baltimore.

An eight-year National Football League veteran Bukich has sat on the bench so often during his career he has averaged only 40 passes a year. This season as understudy to Billy Wade he had not made even one in the Bears' first three games.

In the third quarter against the Colts, with the Bears trailing 3-0 and Wade ineffective, Bukich got the call. He made the right one with 9:18 remaining in the last quarter, firing a pass over the middle to Bull, who rambled the rest of the way for the clincher.

The victory kept the Bears one game in front of the defending league champion Green Bay Packers, who set the tone against Los Angeles on Herb Adderley's 98-yard touchdown run with the opening kickoff and went on to crush the winless Rams 42-10.

St. Louis and New York, 3-1 as are the Packers, moved past Pittsburgh into the runner-up spot in the Eastern Division behind front-running Cleveland. The Browns whipped the Steelers in a Saturday night game 35-23 as Frank Ryan passed for three touchdowns and scored once.

The Cardinals and Giants had similar performances from their quarterbacks. St. Louis' Charlie Johnson threw three touchdown passes and gained 301 yards in a 56-14 walloping of Minnesota while New York's Y. A. Tittle passed for three TDs and 302 yards in a 24-14 decision over Washington.

In the other games, Detroit ruined Jack Christiansen's debut as San Francisco head coach by whipping the 49ers 26-3 and Philadelphia edged Dallas 24-21. With capacity crowds at all but Minnesota and Detroit, the seven-game program drew a record 358,807 fans.

Denver knocked off the American Football League's last undefeated team, beating San Diego 50-34. In other weekend action, Kansas City defeated Houston 28-7, New York downed Boston 31-24 and Buffalo beat Oakland 12-0.

The Colts took a 3-0 lead in the third quarter on Jim Martin's 16-yard field goal, and Roger LeClerc matched that with a 17-yarder for the Bears after the Bukich to Bull pass pulled it out. In all, Bukich completed six of seven passes for 112 yards.

State Examiner's Report

Journal Keeping, Scheduled Reports Are Viewed in Audit

COUNTY HOME
"All books and accounts required to be kept by the county home superintendent Mrs. Muriel G. Ott, are being properly maintained," the examiner's report reads.

However, a County Home Journal to be kept by the clerk of the board of commissioners "was of little value," the examiner, George Collet, stated. He pointed out that Ohio code provides for the keeping of the journal in which all board transactions should be kept.

Collet also pointed out failure of the department to submit an annual report that is also required.

BERGER HOSPITAL
The period covered by the audit is from Sept. 16, 1959 to Aug. 21, 1961.

The examiner was critical of methods used in appointing and approving members to the hospital's board of governors. He said "it was unnecessarily difficult to locate evidence of appointments made. The comments were directed to the mayor's office and City Council. The mayor is a member of the board by virtue of his office and at the time of the audit Ben H. Gordon was serving in that capacity."

Collet pointed out that "in spite of the brevity of the record of proceedings and the apparent lack of action by the Board of Governors, the hospital appears to be efficiently run."

DISTRICT PUBLIC LIBRARY
The audit commended persons responsible for keeping the minutes record of the library, but said "we regret that it is again necessary to criticize the manner in which the cashbook is being maintained."

He pointed out that his report marked the third time that an examiner had to state that the cashbook was not properly maintained.

He said while talking with the clerk, Mrs. Enid Denham, that she was not aware of the importance of this record. Collet listed particulars that should be corrected and said some action by the board of trustees should be taken that "would have a far reaching effect on the situation."

COMMON PLEAS COURT
The examiner's findings were complimentary of the Common Pleas Court with the exception of the payment of compensation to jury commissioners.

Collet said the commissioners are being paid once each year, contrary to the Ohio Revised Code which provides that compensation be paid monthly.

DOG WARDEN
Collet's report was critical of failure to keep weekly reports as required by law. However, he pointed out, that the matter was being corrected.

He said the commissioners journal showed no record of a salary increase for Ralph Wallace, dog warden from $1740 a year to $1860.

JAKE ARVEY'S SON—Erwin B. Arvey, 44, is led handcuffed by an FBI agent to arraignment in Los Angeles on charges of possession of counterfeit securities. Arvey is the son of Jacob M. Arvey of Chicago, Democratic national committeeman. Arvey also is charged with interstate transportation of the securities, $500,000 in fraudulent GMAC bonds.

Citizen Group Is Selected For Logan Elm

A Pickaway County Citizens Committee that will direct its efforts toward continued improvement and maintenance of the Logan Elm State Memorial has been named here.

Selection of the committee was made under auspices of the Ohio Historical Society. The panel will be composed of 15 persons from the city and county.

An initial meeting for the body has been scheduled for 8 p. m. Oct. 24 at the local common pleas courtroom. Fred J. Milligan, president of the Ohio Historical Society, and Erwin C. Zepp, secretary, plan to attend.

The two society officials will bring members of the local committee up-to-date on a program for improvement of state memorials. A future program for Logan Elm also will be discussed.

Area members serving on the citizens committee are: Judge William Ammer; Mrs. E. R. Bennett of the Area Chamber of Commerce; Attorney Ray W. Davis; John F. Fissell; Ned Harden, Wallace Higgins, president of the Pickaway County Historical Society; Wayne Hines, county commissioner; Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of Circleville schools; George McDowell, superintendent of Pickaway County schools; Dr. E. L. Montgomery; M. E. Noggle; May or Richard Penn; Attorney William D. Radcliff; Paul Smallwood of The Circleville Herald; and Mrs. Carl Will of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

He suggested that the present office holder Robert H. Huffer "keep better records," since Davis is no longer serving the county in that office.

JUVENILE COURT
The state examiner again has paid compliments where due. He said receipts in duplicate have been written for all money collected by the juvenile court. "The cashbook shows accurate and prompt accounting of all funds received. The same is balanced with the bank monthly, thereby leaving little chance for error."

COUNTY RECORDER
Florence T. Campbell served as county recorder during the entire period covered by the audit, Feb. 1, 1959 to May 31, 1961. The office was given a "clean bill of health" for the entire period.

COUNTY SHERIFF
According to the examiner's report all records and cashbooks were properly maintained during the period of the audit of the sheriff's office.

However, Collet pointed out that electric current being supplied to the jail also provides the current for the residence of the sheriff which is part of the county jail building. Collet quoted a section of the Ohio Revised Code which prohibits county commissioners providing electricity for the sheriff's residence.

SOLDIER'S RELIEF COMMISSION
Collet's report indicated that the Soldier's Relief Commission had failed to hold meetings as provided by law.

He also criticized the function of the Soldier's Relief Committee. He said that he had been informed by James P. Shea veterans' service officer and investigator, that the committee is seldom used mostly when the panel can assist him in a particular investigation.

Collet commented that this is "ironical that the persons serving on this committee should be used in this manner when in fact the procedure should be reversed." He also criticized the commission for failure to keep a soldier's relief committee appointed and up to date.

Collet's report was critical of failure to keep weekly reports as required by law. However, he pointed out, that the matter was being corrected.

He said the commissioners journal showed no record of a salary increase for Ralph Wallace, dog warden from $1740 a year to $1860.

Supreme Court Opens Term; Ohio Case To Be on Docket

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court convenes today for a new term, confronted with the heaviest docket in its long history. Chief Justice Earl Warren, beginning his eleventh year on the high bench, has seen a steady annual increase in appeals during his regime. The total at term-opening now stands at almost 1,200 cases.

Representing an increase of about 300 cases over last October's opening, the total includes appeals expected to produce momentous decisions in the coming winter and spring.

Under court routine dating back many years, opening day is a short one devoted to admission of attorneys to practice before the high court.

Questions left undecided in the Tennessee legislative reapportionment ruling of 1962 will be taken up soon. The court already has agreed to hear new apportionment cases from New York, Georgia, Alabama, Maryland and Virginia.

In the Tennessee case the tribunal decided the division of seats in state legislatures is subject to judicial scrutiny. Now the justices are faced with the question of what apportionment standards satisfy the Constitution.

New appeals also asking hearings before the high tribunal, validity of the Ohio law was questioned by the manager of a theater in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. He was fined $2,500 for showing a French film entitled "The Lovers." The movie won prizes in Europe, ran in 100 cities in this country, and was rated in a New York Times listing as among the 10 best for 1959.

The Library of Congress in Washington added 664,313 items to its permanent collections in the fiscal year 1962. The institution preserves some 41,879,000 items, including 12,534,000 books and pamphlets and 17, 989,000 manuscripts.

License Plate Monies Sent To Counties

Political subdivisions in Pickaway County received $26,498.86 from a total of $7,342,753 distributed this week from the 1963 vehicle license plate funds.

The report was released today by Dave Mainwaring, registrar of motor vehicles.

The figures bring the grand total for the licensing year to $80, 563,363 which is an increase of more than $17 million over 1961. Local taxing districts use this revenue exclusively for maintenance and repairs of roads.

The registrar explained that the increase is partly due to a law enacted by the 104th General Assembly, which transferred the source of funds for operating the Department of Highway Safety from motor vehicle license taxes alone to revenue from gasoline taxes and various fees, other than vehicle license.

Liquor Store Thief Chased

CLEVELAND (AP)—The manager of a state liquor store with one of the largest retail sales in Ohio came face to face with a burglar passing out liquor cases to a companion Sunday.

But the manager, Leonard C. Lee said the man slipped through a hole chopped in the wall by the burglars and escaped. Lee had gone to the store to do weekend bookkeeping.

State auditors will check the inventory today to determine the exact amount of liquor cases taken.

The store like most state liquor stores in Cleveland, is not equipped with a burglar alarm system.

Two safes were not touched, police said.

Lee said the store was burglarized last month of $1,100 worth of liquor.

The island of Marajo, at the mouth of the Amazon River, is twice the size of Massachusetts.

Collet pointed out that "in spite of the brevity of the record of proceedings and the apparent lack of action by the Board of Governors, the hospital appears to be efficiently run."

DISTRICT PUBLIC LIBRARY
The audit commended persons responsible for keeping the minutes record of the library, but said "we regret that it is again necessary to criticize the manner in which the cashbook is being maintained."

He pointed out that his report marked the third time that an examiner had to state that the cashbook was not properly maintained.

He said while talking with the clerk, Mrs. Enid Denham, that she was not aware of the importance of this record. Collet listed particulars that should be corrected and said some action by the board of trustees should be taken that "would have a far reaching effect on the situation."

COMMON PLEAS COURT
The examiner's findings were complimentary of the Common Pleas Court with the exception of the payment of compensation to jury commissioners.

Collet said the commissioners are being paid once each year, contrary to the Ohio Revised Code which provides that compensation be paid monthly.

DOG WARDEN
Collet's report was critical of failure to keep weekly reports as required by law. However, he pointed out, that the matter was being corrected.

He said the commissioners journal showed no record of a salary increase for Ralph Wallace, dog warden from $1740 a year to $1860.

Citizen Group Is Selected For Logan Elm

A Pickaway County Citizens Committee that will direct its efforts toward continued improvement and maintenance of the Logan Elm State Memorial has been named here.

Selection of the committee was made under auspices of the Ohio Historical Society. The panel will be composed of 15 persons from the city and county.

An initial meeting for the body has been scheduled for 8 p. m. Oct. 24 at the local common pleas courtroom. Fred J. Milligan, president of the Ohio Historical Society, and Erwin C. Zepp, secretary, plan to attend.

The two society officials will bring members of the local committee up-to-date on a program for improvement of state memorials. A future program for Logan Elm also will be discussed.

Area members serving on the citizens committee are: Judge William Ammer; Mrs. E. R. Bennett of the Area Chamber of Commerce; Attorney Ray W. Davis, John F. Fissell; Ned Harden, Wallace Higgins, president of the Pickaway County Historical Society; Wayne Hines, county commissioner; Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of Circleville schools; George McDowell, superintendent of Pickaway County schools; Dr. E. L. Montgomery; M. E. Noggle; May or Richard Penn; Attorney William D. Radcliff; Paul Smallwood of The Circleville Herald; and Mrs. Cark Will of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Girard Man Is Slated For Murder Hearing
WARREN, Ohio (AP) — David H. Zirwas, 28-year-old Girard factory worker, was to be arraigned today in Niles Municipal Court on a first-degree murder charge stemming from the Sept. 19 slaying of Benjamin Krawiecki, 42, of Youngstown.

Zirwas, also accused of robbery and car theft, was returned to Trumbull County Jail last week following his capture in Las Vegas. Authorities say Zirwas has admitted shooting Krawiecki, a vending company employee, on a Niles street corner.

Supreme Court Opens Term; Ohio Case To Be on Docket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court convenes today for a new term, confronted with the heaviest docket in its long history.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, beginning his eleventh year on the high bench, has seen a steady annual increase in appeals during his regime. The total at term-opening now stands at almost 1,200 cases.

Representing an increase of about 300 cases over last October's opening, the total includes appeals expected to produce momentous decisions in the coming winter and spring.

Under court routine dating back many years, opening day is a short one devoted to admission of attorneys to practice before the high court.

Questions left undecided in the Tennessee legislative reapportionment ruling of 1962 will be taken up soon. The court already has agreed to hear new apportionment cases from New York, Georgia, Alabama, Maryland and Virginia.

In the Tennessee case the tribunal decided the division of seats in state legislatures is subject to judicial scrutiny. Now the justices are faced with the question of what apportionment standards satisfy the Constitution.

New appeals also asking hearings before the high tribunal, have been filed in apportionment cases from Michigan, Florida, Delaware, Washington State, Ohio, Oklahoma, Colorado and Queens in New York.

Before leaving for summer vacation June 17, the justices set up a heavy preliminary work load by agreeing to hear 95 cases early in the new term.

Among these is an appeal questioning constitutionality of an Ohio law making it a crime to knowingly possess or show obscene motion pictures. This case was argued last term, then ordered reargued in the new term, presumably because the court was unable to reach agreement on a final decision.

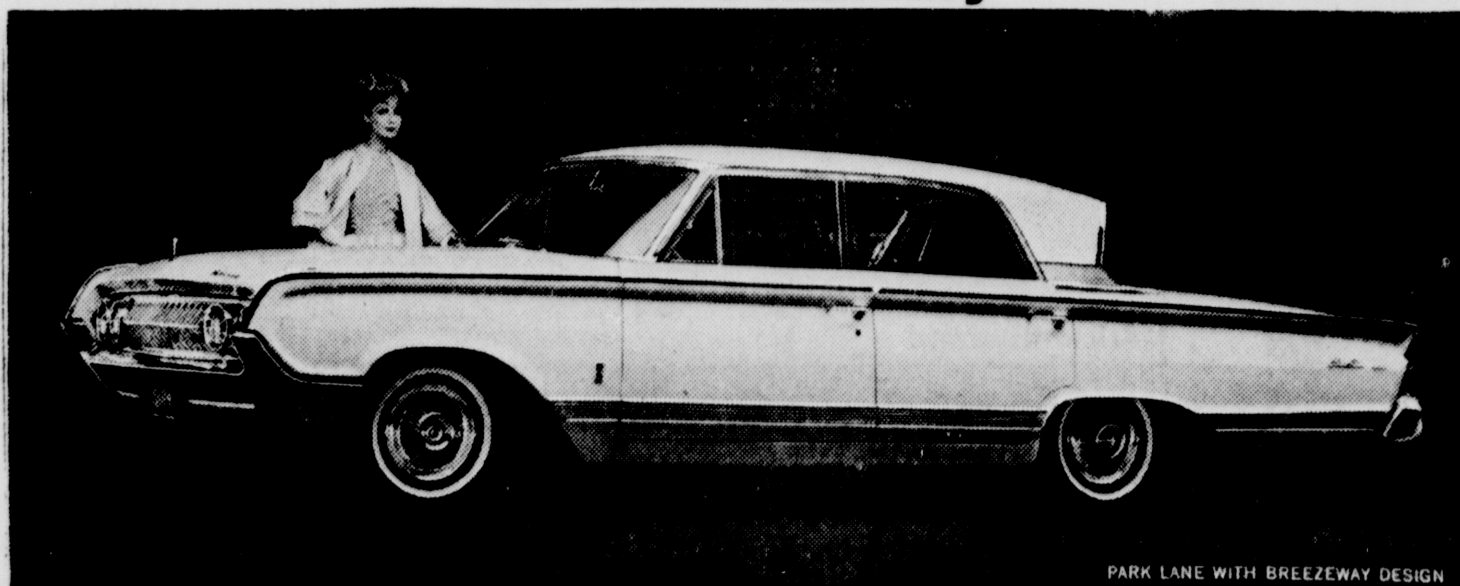

Validity of the Ohio law was questioned by the manager of a theater in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. He was fined $2,500 for showing a French film entitled "The Lovers." The movie won prizes in Europe, ran in 100 cities in this country, and was rated in a New York Times listing as among the 10 best for 1959.

The Library of Congress in Washington added 664,313 items to its permanent collections in the fiscal year 1962. The institution preserves some 41,879,000 items, including 12,534,000 books and pamphlets and 17,989,000 manuscripts.

License Plate Monies Sent To Counties

Political subdivisions in Pickaway County received $26,498.86 from a total of $7,342,753 distributed this week from the 1963 vehicle license plate funds.

The report was released today by Dave Mainwaring, registrar of motor vehicles.

The figures bring the grand total for the licensing year to $80,563,363 which is an increase of more than $17 million over 1961. Local taxing districts use this revenue exclusively for maintenance and repairs of roads.

The registrar explained that the increase is partly due to a law enacted by the 104th General Assembly, which transferred the source of funds for operating the Department of Highway Safety from motor vehicle license taxes alone to revenue from gasoline taxes and various fees, other than vehicle license.

Liquor Store Thief Chased

CLEVELAND (AP) — The manager of a state liquor store with one of the largest retail sales in Ohio came face to face with a burglar passing out liquor cases to a companion Sunday.

But the manager, Leonard C. Lee said the man slipped through a hole chopped in the wall by the burglars and escaped. Lee had gone to the store to do weekend bookkeeping.

State auditors will check the inventory today to determine the exact amount of liquor cases taken.

The store like most state liquor stores in Cleveland, is not equipped with a burglar alarm system.

Two safes were not touched, police said.

Lee said the store was burglarized last month of $1,100 worth of liquor.

The island of Marajo, at the mouth of the Amazon River, is twice the size of Massachusetts.
